Making a presentation puts you on public display. Your audience will not only listen to your ideas, they will also respond to the way you present them. You will need more than a well written presentation to make an impact. You will need to deliver it in a flexible and interesting way, and the software you will use is crucial in such situation. There is no doubt that Prezi is the best presentation software in the market. Written by a Prezi expert with over 5 years of experience and mastery of the software. Who worked with world-class clients such as Krauthammer, SerendiWorld, Changi Airport Group, Pitcher Partners and many others. There are two reasons behind writing this eBook. The first is that most of the other books about Prezi are out of date. Prezi is a fast-changing software, always being improved. This eBook is based on the last version to date (Version 5.2.7 - February 2015). And we will always keep updating it with whatever will be new in the future releases. Annie Garvey says

The screens looks different. I could be that I am using the free version. There are good references at the end for further exploration.

Danny Ellis says

Very basic. I was hoping to find more than simple instructions around the tools and commands. Good if someone has never opened any presentation software and can't easily navigate themselves through new software.
