At the mayor's ball, murder strikes again.

The mayor's ball was going good when murder striked. A group trying to get pictures of paranormal s doing magic caused chaos and the cake was crashed too. Damon's mother, the new leader of the group stole a wand, took pictures of magic doers then was attacked herself. Damon missed Ava and Colt broke it off between them. What can happen in the next book has me wanting more.

Renee Tellinger and her group of people MAPP (Mothers Against Paranormal Predators) is standing outside the COMHA (Council on Magic and Human Affairs) building protesting. Renee is Damon's mother, and Damon used to date Ava Fortune....a witch!. Then the group actually goes to Heavenly Haven and Mistmoor Point. They are there to prove once and for all that witches and the like are dangerous to humans and need to be abolished. They show up and make a nuisance of themselves, but they really destroy the mayor's ball! Oh and Randall is killed inside Mystic Cupcake when Renee was in there. Who is the killer? Then Renee is also attacked, and almost dies. Who is the common connection between the two attacks? Read the book to find out.

Out of all the books in this series, so far, this is my favorite. The new mayor is having a ball to celebrate his new position in Heavenly Haven. Avas family bakery is sharing the catering with another shop. Things are going well....until a man named Randall is murdered . There are a few suspects that could be the murderer. So this story is a good read...the changes between the characters will surprise. Come join in the fun and suspense in this series.

How can they clear up the murder without allowing themselves to be filmed Wonderful. A protest team, balls, murder, missing fairys, talking animals, magic, witches and so much more are woven into a fun plot that will have racing through the book. The characters are fun and quirky but with all the personality flaws we all have. Can they clear up the murder without putting themselves to the human population.

Lisa says

Heroine is young but...wow. I get that she had just turned 22, and we have all done stupid stuff at 22, but it is constantly immature and selfish behavior from her the whole book through. I love Colt, but Damon...I love Colt but again Damon. MAPP is stealing wands and with a murder and a missing person (Damon's girlfriend), she agonizes over a "So-there" kiss from Damon and doesn't think to report a stolen wand confession to the police or her actual boyfriend, a COMHA agent? Ava was very wishy-washy and narcissistic and I had a difficult time getting into the book and being engaged as easily as I had the previous books in the series.

A beautiful ball and your family is catering one half of the treats. What can go wrong? One of our semi-main characters is in the limelight again. Damon's mother and her band of M.A.P.P. friends who are mad and up to no good. In their quest for paranormal activity, someone is murdered, another one attempted and chaos everywhere.

Because Ava Fortune's family is involved with the catering, Ava must find out what is going on. She must save her relationship with Colt Hudson at the same time. This series gets better with each episode, a must read!!!

Andrea Stoeckel says

[I received this advanced copy directly from the author. It did not affect my opinions]

"Why is everything so complicated?" I muttered to myself and heard my father's voice answer back in my head. It's not how complicated things get; it's how you handle the complication that matters. I smiled, thinking the voice was spot on."

In this, the latest in Zoe Arden's Sweetland Witch Series, Ava Fortune is still working with her aunts and her father, still trying to balance life. However, her ex Damon and his mother Renee and her group MAPP-Mothers Against Paranormal Predators are getting to be more than annoying. Add in the Council on Magic and Human Affairs, who have become irritated with MAPP, and the situation is keeping Ava and the community on their toes as they begin planning the food for the Mayor's Ball.

Ava is trying everybody's patience and when a quiet young man dies in Mystic Cupcake and no one can figure out why, or who is behind it. Was it magic or just an accident. Ava is in the middle of this up to her eyeballs.

Who's to blame? Will everything be ready in time for the Celebration? And why are there potato chips next to that gorgeous cake on the table at the Ball?

Another sweet treat from the pen of Zoe Arden. Recommended

Damon's mother, Renee Tellinger is visiting her son to meet his new friend. Or is that her real reason? She has brought her group Mothers Against Paranormal (MAPP) with her. She is staying with Damon while her group is at a hotel. Prior to arrival on Heavenly Haven, the group had been protesting at one of the Council on Magic and Human Affairs worksites. Now the Council is very annoyed with MAPP.

Renee enters Mystic Cupcake where she argues with another customer. During her retaliation, a flash of light goes through the air. The young man dies. What really caused his death??

Mystery, danger, murder, suspense, magic, spells combine with witches, goblins, vampires, elves & fairies, romance plus humor to make this a good read.

Interesting happenings occur at both of the Mayor's Balls. You will enjoy the Mystic Cupcake's three fur babies: Snowy the cat (Ava's familiar), Tootsie the cat (Trixie's familiar) and Rocky the wolfhound (Eleanor's familiar) along with the mayor's pet skunk Tadpole.

This is book is part of the Sweetland Witch cozy series. It can be read as a stand .

A highly recommended read.

Anne says

Frosting Disaster by Zoe Arden is the latest in the Sweetland Witch Cozy Mystery series is a delightful tale of murder among witches, vampires, goblins, and fairies. First, Randall drops dead right in the Mystic Cupcake, in front of Ava Fortune and her aunts and several customers. When the doctor examines him it turns out his heart just stopped beating...very odd. At about the same time, Mothers Against Paranormal Predators (MAPP), Is ramping up in Sweetland Cove, the goal being elimination of all paranormal creatures. This is a problem for much of Sweetland Cove. Part of the problem is that the president of MAPP is none other than Renee Tellinger, Damon's mother, who is returning to Sweetland Cove to lead the campaign. Later, interestingly, she nearly becomes the second victim.

These books keep getting better and better. The character development is good. Ava's desire for the bad boy (Damon) continues to flare up occasionally despite the fact she knows it would never work. This time it nearly ruins her relationship with Colt. The introduction of a fairy, well half-fairy, as Betsey, Damon's new girlfriend, is welcome, but not enough to satisfy Renee.

As usual, Ava butts in where she doesn't belong and speaks when she should keep still. That's her charm, isn't it? Read it. I recommend it. You will love it and this whole series!

This was my first book in this series, and I felt I had missed out on quite a bit of background information. The protagonist Eva is a young witch who has a loving family, good friends, and a great boyfriend, but she seems to be a magnet for trouble. Working in a family bakery would seem to be an ordinary job, but strange things happen around Eva, and they're not always paranormal occurrences. In this book she becomes the target of MAPP, Mothers Against Paranormal Predators, which is led, unfortunately, by the mother of her ex-boyfriend Damon. A mysterious rogue witch is misusing her powers, and a friend of the crew drops dead in the bakery after being hit by a chocolate bearclaw. Multiple dead end leads and lots of running back and forth on the island, even searching through a fairy forest, don't solve the mystery. One grand finale at the mayor's "do over" ball reveals the murderer and provides the explanation for all the strange events. It's happy ending for Eva and her boyfriend, but I predict that's only temporary.

3rd Time's the Charm

Damon is back and so is his mom, Renee, but this time her MAPP friend's are with her. MAPP is an organization of mothers who distrust paranormal beings. They are just in time for the Mayor of Sweetland's party and want to catch witches doing magic to out them to the public. On top of this excitement, there is a murder. An accident that should have been funny turns deadly.

If you like paranormal fiction, this books are always entertaining. Ava is a nosy, new witch who is always getting into messes by her clumsiness or saying things she shouldn't. There are humorous food accidents and their familiars get in the act this time adding more fun to the mix.

Margaret Appel says

Murder, Mayhem, and a Party

Mayor Otis is throwing a ball and The Mystic Cupcake is making the centerpiece cake. Ava and her aunts are busy baking up a storm when one of their customers drops dead in their store. Is it? Gasp! Could it be? Murder!? Who would kill Randall? Well, gee, this is Sweetland Cove and wherever Ava is, somebody always seems to end up dead...

And the icing on the cake is that Ava's ex-boyfriend Damon's mom Renee is in town to meet his new girlfriend Betsey. Renee is president of MAPP, Mother's Against Paranormal Predators. She and her group are actually visiting Heavenly Haven to get proof that witches, warlocks, and other paranormals really do exist. She's in for a surprise because Betsey is part fairy.

Will the ball go off without a hitch? Can Ava figure out who the murderer is before someone else falls victim? All the answers are waiting for you in Zoe Arden's latest creation "Frosting Disaster".

I love The Sweetland Witch series - it's the perfect combination of cozy mystery combined with paranormal romance.

A little confused...

I like these stories. From the first book til now. This book was no exception. I enjoyed the story. What I didn't enjoy was the discrepancy of Damon and Ava's background story.

SPOILER ALERT

In the first few books, the story involved people connected to Ava's mother's murder. In those books it was Slater's father who killed Ava's mother, there were entire plot lines revolving around this. In multiple books. In this book however, the author hinges the story around it being Damon's father who had murdered Ava's mother, and been killed by Ava's father. Why the change?

Enjoyable read

This is another great book in the series. I am very glad I started reading this series. I love following the Adventures of Ava. This book is a good book to curl up with and enjoy some laughs , mystery and romance . I love reading about the predicaments Ava finds herself in. You will find your self guessing as to who the guilty party is , just when you think you know another piece of the puzzle is discovered. This book makes me want to go to Sweetland Cove. The only down fall is it makes you hungry for the sweet treats they talk about in the bakery. I look forward to the next adventure .

Suzanne Giorgione says

The fun and zany witch Ava Fortune is back with more adventures for your enjoyment! Her ex-boyfriend Damon has a crazy Mom, Renee, who runs MAPP - Mother's Against Paranormal Predators. She and her friends have become rather annoying at COMHA headquarters and now they have come to the island. Their goal is to find proof of the paranormal community and out them to the world. As soon as they come to town, one of the islanders is murdered, another disappears, they ruin the Mayor's ball and then a redo as well. It's drama and chaos. Of course Ava tries to help solve the murder and then Damon's mother Renee accuses Ava of hexing her son before and thinks they are still dating, even though both have other relationships. Damon kisses Ava trying to show his mom that Ava has no power over him which causes relationship problems for the two of them and their significant others. Its a wild ride full of humor, yummy desserts, romance, love, family, friendship, witches, vampires, goblins, fairies, adventure, mystery and a ball, or two or three, lol. Will they figure out who is the murderer before anyone else dies? I voluntarily reviewed an ARC of this book.
