Special Agent Valerie Hansen

SUSPICION OF GUILT

When Special Agent in Charge Max West and his K-9 partner, Opal, look into a series of bombings in Northern California, horse trainer Katerina Garwood instantly seems suspicious. As the ex-fiancée of a man tied to the criminal Dupree family, Katerina may know more than she's letting on—especially since the infamous syndicate is targeting her. And Max isn't sure he can believe her when she says she knows nothing. Despite his reservations, though, he can't deny his attraction...or the impulse to protect her. And with the criminals closing in, Max must separate the truth from lies, or he and Katerina may not live to share tomorrow...

PinkPiratePanda says

I really enjoyed Special Agent. I am a big animal lover, unfortunately I do not have any dogs of my own, (yet) but I do have 13+ cats...

I feel like this book gave a glimpse into what it would be like to be an FBI agent with a dog, of course it is probably not, but it was very enjoyable to imagine that.

I enjoyed watching the main characters go from suspicion to falling in love and their adventure on the way. I want to read the rest of the series, because there seems to be more back story and future story to be seen in this book.

I received this book from Goodreads giveaway, and I am under no obligation to provided a review but by my own accord.

Love the continuity

A bit less action then the previous books in the series, but I enjoyed it none the less. Loved the humor between Max and Katerina. Max nor Katerina wanted to put themselves out there to love again. Katerina had fallen for a con man and Max had losted his fiancee in an accident. God had different plans for these two. This story had attempted kidnapping, attempted murder, and a few explosions. Cannot wait for the next book in the series.

EXCELLENT

I chose this rating because the book was well written, including what I this kind of Christian novel should include: a relationship with God, intrigue, mystery, love relationships and a great ending, or in this case a great lead in to the next book

SOOO GOOD!

Sometimes a book just grabs me and this one certainly did. Since the book is part of a series I'd read about Max before but he and Opal are such a dynamic pair. I can't imagine what a service Opal does as a dog that can smell explosives. These dogs are absolutely amazing!

What a great continuity series! I get so excited to see a new book coming out each month. I love looking for clues relating to the over-arching suspense that will carry through all six books (this is Book Three) but I also enjoy the fact that each book reads very well as a standalone. Special Agent brings both romantic and suspense resolution for Max and Katerina...and Opal, bless her big ol' drooling heart!

So, aside from being enamored with the beautiful boxer on the cover, I think her partner is pretty droolworthy (doggy pun intended!) as well. Max is intense and single-minded when it comes to crime solving which puts up barriers where Katerina is concerned. He doesn't trust her -- or to be more accurate, he doesn't want to trust her but there's something about the spunky heroine that's hard to resist. And that makes Max a tad tetchy. Love me a moody hero with strong protective tendencies.

Katerina's whole world has been turned upside down thanks to her erstwhile ex-fiancé and she's struggling to get on with her life. Which is kind of hard to do with a target on her back. There's plenty of action, a ton of danger and a puzzling mystery to solve. Not to mention the ups and downs of a romance brewing between this pig-headed couple. Perfect fodder for a page-turner of a story!

A bomb exploding at a horse barn is the dramatic start to this tale of crime and redemption. (No horses are harmed.) The agent involved is an FBI profiler who, with his K9 partner, a Boxer dog, is trained in explosives detection. They meet the daughter of the owner of this premises at the scene, who claims she has fallen out with both her domineering father and her loser boyfriend. Someone was using the horse barn setting to distribute drugs. Now, who could it be?

This is a detailed police procedural with emphasis on collection of evidence and protection of witness and suspect from gangland violence. I found it well written and involving. And I love the dog!

I downloaded an e-ARC from Fresh Fiction and Net Galley. This is an unbiased review.

Spring Summer romance

Special Agent Max West has been avoiding relationships or affairs of the heart for quite a while. But when Katerina Harwood comes into his life as a possible suspect in his case in Northern California he doesn't expect she'll win him over. She's young, (22 to his 33), naive and her former fiancee is the criminal he's investigating. How can he believe she's not involved in the criminal activity, as she purports? But as Max and his K9 partner, Opal, keep saving Katerina from explosions, threats on her life and a stalker he starts to realize she's as innocent as she says. She's also pretty, smart, fearless and honest. Max, who's an experienced, responsible, good looking FBI agent fights the attraction, but it's a losing battle. Now he has to win the battle to protect his woman.

I enjoy the dogs that are trained for various aspects of law enforcement. This novel was way too contrived. The plot and characters weren't as developed as they could have been. This book was a safe, easy read in spite of the possible dangers involved.

Jennifer says

More suspense then romance, I found this story a fun and easy read. The male lead is believable and relatable while the female lead takes a little time to warm up to, but overall is likable. Overall, the story is well paced and kept my attention with a somewhat surprise twist at the end. The only real downside I found was how easy the two find romance and love in the end without a ton of personal connections made beforehand to support it.

Paula Legate says

I have read 4 books in this series and have loved each book. I can't wait to read the next one.

Katerina's ex fiancé was a man tied to the criminal Dupree family. She had no idea the man she was about to be married to was into drug smuggling. She thought he was a business man. He got locked up, and now her reputation is trash. Her father disowned her. Someone thought she knew more than she did, and is stalking her. Bombs started exploding around her small town. Special agent Max and his K-9 partner Opal went to California to investigate. I fell in love with Opal throughout this book. Both Max, and Opal protected Katerina.

This book had excellent action, suspense, and romance. This book will be added to my list of favorites.

Charline Bonham says

Special Agent Max West and his K-9 partner Opal, are in California to investigate bombings. Katerina Garwood is a person of interest since she was the fiancee of a man with ties to the Dupree crime family. She claims she doesn't know anything but if that is true, why are they so interested in her. The more Max gets to know her, he is starting to believe but cannot let down his guard. That would be dangerous to both of them. Love the 'Classified K-9 Unit' series but each is a stand alone.

Pam says

Special Agent: Classified K-9 Unit is by Valerie Hansen. It is a love inspired Suspense and has no objectionable language or sex scenes. It is a good read about K-9 units and the men and women who serve with the dogs. It is also a book about second chances.

Special Agent Max West and his partner, Opal are in Northern California looking into a series of bombings. Max thinks they are linked to the Dupree crime family. His latest suspect is Katerina Garwood, a horse trainer, who was engaged to a man tied to the Dupree family. The latest bombing was at the ranch owned by her Father and she was there. Katerina and her Father were estranged since she had taken up with Vern Kowalski. Was this bombing to get back at her Father or just a coincidence? As he gets to know Katerina, he begins to believe she is the target of several events happening in town. What does she know or what does someone think she knows?

Glenda Parker says

This is the third book in the continuity series, Classified K-9 Unit. I really enjoyed it and I know you will too. Valerie is one of my favorite authors in fact the whole series is written by my favorite authors. This book is well written, action packed, and full of faith. You are going to love this one.

Special Agent in Charge Max West and his partner, Opal are in a search for explosives. His search has brought him to California. A woman that had been engaged to a man that was involved with a crime family has caught his attention. Max is told she is a person of interest in the case but she now seems to have become a target. She must know what these men are after. Max is drawn to the beautiful woman can he keep her alive until they find what these men are after.

Horse Trainer Katerina Garwood was engaged to a mobster but when everyone finds out about him the whole town turned against her even her own father. When one of the barns blow up a federal agent and his K-9 partner shows up to investigate the bombing. Katerina is attracted to the man and his dog but is not about to trust another man ever. Max is continually saving her life so it's hard to keep her distance. What could these men want?

A journey of two heartbroken souls thrown together in a struggle to stay alive. How do they learn to trust each other and trust God. God has a plan for these two; a plan for a hope and a future. God has a plan for you too. A plan for good and not for evil. Give your heart to Him and trust Him to turn your life around.

Lizzi says

The thrilling third installment of The Classified K-9 Unit was filled with twists and turns and non-stop action.

Katerina Garwood has had her reputation dragged through the mud due to getting involved with a man who wasn't who he said he was. Now she's being threatened because the men her former fiancé worked for think he gave her something to hide for him. It's up to Special Agent in Charge Max West and his partner, a boxer named Opal, to keep Katerina safe and figure out who her stalker truly is. Max never intended to let his emotions take over, because of a similar scenario that happened before. But there's just something about Katerina that pulls Max in, makes him want to believe in her innocence.
