Crashing into Her Mia Sosa

Relationships are a thing of the past for Eva Montgomery. Her current motto? You can't spell "manipulative" without man. But Eva has needs, and a one-night-stand at her best friend's wedding is the perfect way to kick off her new approach to singledom. Then a job opportunity puts her in the same city with the guy she can't forget . . .

Anthony Castillo is a perpetual bachelor—no strings, just flings—a status he maintains by being honest about his intentions and never looking back. So why is he still thinking about the firecracker of a woman who rocked his world at his cousin's wedding? It's a question he refuses to answer, until she comes crashing back into his life, taking his emotional walls down with her.

When her father doubts her ability to make it in LA, Eva vows to go big and prove him wrong. With her athletic background, she's an ideal candidate for stunt work. But first she'll need training, and the instructor is none other than her former hookup, Anthony Castillo. Except he's not as cocky as she remembers and he's definitely still sexy as sin. The only problem is . . . Anthony doesn't want her anywhere near his stunt school—or his heart.

I am so happy for Eva to get her book! I love Anthony and her together. They both had things to work through, and were absolutely perfect for each other. I'm sorry to see this series end, but so lucky to have had a chance to read them all!

It's the 3rd in here Love in Cue series

It follows an Intereracial couple, She is black, he's Latino (a New Yorican, like my hubby ;))

He's a Stuntman in LA and she's a fitness trainer in Philly. They meet at her best friends, his cousins wedding, her flight is delayed, cue one night stand.

She moves to LA.

my review below

Flirty, Sexy and funny! And. Omg... I need to find a Puerto Rican restaurant!! The food described is too yummy!! Too bad my hubby doesn't cook!

This was a different take on a man who only does one night stands! He's such an honest man and for what Eva's been through, exactly what she needs!

The chemistry between these two! The back and forth conversational hits were so refreshing and funny! They connected so well emotionally as well as physically!

I'm sorry to see this series end but I'll definitely be looking for more from Mia Sosa!
