Janice says

A little too sappy for me.

Cheryl says

Great book specially loved The Regifted Scrapbook by Suzanne Walker. Make sure you have a box of kleenex ready when reading this one. Shame that the other two authors names are not included- Allison Connors and Denniee Haas, the later I had the chance to meet and I simply adore her. She is full of vigor!

Bronwyn Manzer says

I have enjoyed all the Chicken Soup books that I have read and enjoyed this one as well. Scrapbooking has been a passion of mine since the early 90's. I appreciated the stories told in this Chicken Soup book and waited a long time to read it...finally got it on Kindle because I could not find it anywhere. I love my Kindle! I find these books usually stir good feelings in me and this particular one reminded me of all the wonderful reasons to scrapbook!

Sarra Martin says

Sounds like a great book! I love to scrapbook and this sounds good! Can someone tell me if it is a good idea to purchase one?

Brittany Perry says

Okay it wasn't my favorite but I think it was because I just wasn't filled with the scrapbooking attitude at the moment I read it. If I were going through another pregnancy or some other huge monumental point in life I am sure it would have struck a chord with me easier.

Martha says

This book has some of the most heartwarming stories for the scrapbooker fanatic. Scrapbooking can be something that draws people together...as you share memories, and as the scrapbooker shares their gift with others. Yeah scrapbookers have this problem of getting so wrapped up in projects we don't sleep...but it is so worth it in the end! Through these stories you see how scrapbooking brought families together, provided lasting memories of someone gone, bringing healing, of what it means to tell a story through pictures...and so much more!

Glenda says

I have decided to make this part of my daily devotions because I have not scrapped a single page in a long time and hope it will nudge me out of my "scrap block".

Loved the stories.

RMEYFE says

Why is it when people find out your scrapbook then you get books like this? LOL!! Great bunch of stories, I was happy to get it as a gift. :)

SouthWestZippy says

WOW! Wonderful heart felt stories. I was so inspired that I sat down and dreamt up my own twist on some of their ideas.

Sandy Campbell says

I loved this book, the short stories were inspiring and kept you wanting to read the next one. I cried over several stories, the inspiration out weighed the tearjerkers and I look forward to volume two.

Kristin Backus says

really enjoyed this book. it made me think about all the reasons I love to scrapbook and yet gave me many more as well. I recommend this book to all to give them a new outlook on memories and picture taking.

Jan says

I bought this when it first published and recently finished reading it. A lot of inspirational stories, many sentimental stories - but lots of grief and loss too. Overall an enjoyable read, many of the stories seemed overly trite or forced. Kind of reminded me of staging events so they could be scrapbooked. I've been scrapping for a long time.

Maggie says

Can I even be VAGUELY impartial? My story is in the book! LOL! "The Single Scrapper"

Myra Marangi says

I have been scrapbooking for over 12 years now and every now and then I need a reason to keep my family history going...this book is a great inspiration for that!

Dawn says

This didn't feel like a typical Chicken Soup book, especially for the first half of the book. The reading went quickly because there were so many 1/2 page or 1 page stories. I nearly gave up but the second half redeemed it. The heartfelt (and slightly longer) stories had me crying and enjoying the book the way I wish I would have from the beginning.
