Rhyme Owens says

I really liked this book because when a goblin put a bag on a different goblin who was the bus driver the rest of the goblins were practicing cheerleading with kicking the magical soccer ball then the bus driver crashed into a

Abbie says

I thought it was funny how the goblin pretended he was a ball player and he put on half the clothes for one team and the other half for the other team. And also I thought it was funny that he was looking for the magic soccer ball so he hid all the soccer balls and then when the coach saw him with them, the coach got mad at the goblin for hiding them.

The Sporty Fairies (U.S name: Sports Fairies) are the 9th series. The Sporty Fairies are responsible for making sure that everyone in fairy land and the human world have fun playing sports. They each have a magic item (related to their sport) and when the goblins steal them this makes sports more difficult for everyone. Not good when the Fairyland Olympics are due to start and kids everywhere are on school holidays.

There are seven Sporty fairies and they are: Helena the Horseriding Fairy, Francesca the Football Fairy, Zoe the Skating Fairy, Naomi the Netball Fairy, Samantha the Swimming Fairy, Alice the Tennis Fairy and Gemma the Gymnastics Fairy.

Action takes place around Tippington Town with Kirsty staying with Rachel.

Summer French reading is a breeze with these sparkly magic fairy books books!

Sort of Mariposa says

great for beginners

Sarah says

Holy Mother of God, why are there so many of these soul-killing books?!

Leia says

This book is about a soccer fairy named Stacey. Stacey and her friends Rachel and Kirsty like the fairies.

I want to be kind to this book. Because it's a book for whom I am not the intended audience. I read it to my daughter who is five. But I did read it, and the story, my friends, it was not good.

Quite often, you'll find, even in stories intended for younger audiences, a bit of storytelling that reveals things, that has characters you want to root for. This book is nothing like that. It is very strongly "and then this happened, and then this happened, and then this happened, and they saved the day." In fact, I think that the only reason these books have sold at all is because they have fairies on the covers.

I'm thinking I'll get my daughter, who is really into drawing fairies, to make some super-colourful cover art, and I'll write some fairy stories, and she and I can make a bundle on the not-so-discriminating readership.

Ah well, on to the next in the series, I guess.

Rachel and Kristy are going to a soccer game between Tippington and Compton. Rachel and Kristy go and explore around the stadium. They find Stacey the Soccer Fairy. She's missing her magic soccer ball. It makes sure that soccer is fun and no one has trouble doing it. Rachel and Kristy find a goblin dressed in one of the ball boy costumes. The official goes to the goblin and says that he is supposed to be in the room listening to the meeting for all the ball boys and girls. Rachel and Kristy want to go in too so Stacey turns their clothes into ball girl clothes. They follow the goblin out of the room and then go back to watch the soccer game and see if people can do it. After they go and look around some more and they find a group of goblins on the bus, the one in the front has the magical soccer ball. Rachel and Kristy fly in after they're turned into fairies with Stacey's magic. Rachel and Kristy distract the goblin while Stacey grabs the ball. It's rolling up and down the bus aisle. When she grabs it, it immediately turns to fairy size and she flies away with it.

I really loved the idea of this book when I was reading the cover before I read the whole book. I had an immediate connection because I'm an avid soccer fan and player and I love fantasy, so I thought it was hilarious that someone wrote a book about Jack Frost trying to sabotage the sports fairies' soccer game. Loved this!

Melissa Brandts says

Lucy picked out and read this completely on her own!

Makayla Partin says

I don't really like Soccer so I didn't really enjoy this book as much as I do the rest. But I'll give it 5?s because it was by daisy meadows and I love all of her books it was fun.

Catalina Deferrari says

This is the second book of seven in the Sports Fairies series by the group of authors who go by the name Daisy Meadows. It's a fun series, especially for young girls who are starting to read chapter books. Our oldest is addicted and will often read several in one day! This series has a sports theme and I like that it encourages girls to be active and try new sports.

I have read so many of these books that I must admit I've become immune to their silliness. I love that I can read them after she does and discuss the plots and her thoughts about the story and about what will happen next in the series. We will certainly read more of these books as long as they are still being written. I will always be thankful that this is one series that helped her to develop a love for reading.

May 2012 update: our youngest is now immersing herself in this series and is reading them very quickly, too. As inane as I thought they were, I love that this series is making readers of our girls. Hooray!

Bernd says

My 7 year old daughter loves the whole series of the Rainbow Fairies books. Inspiring, uplifting and age appropriate.
