Spiral of Need Suzanne Wright

Ally Marshall isn't just a wolf shifter — she's a Seer.

But a girl doesn't exactly need special powers to know that Derren Hudson despises her entire kind. Disdain practically rolls off the Beta of the Mercury Pack . . . disdain mixed with a healthy dose of desire. And no matter how much the ruggedly handsome male appeals to her, this is one call of the wild she's determined to ignore.

After one betrayal too many, Derren doesn't have much use for Seers — except for Ally.

Forced into acting as her protector, he finds himself intensely and passionately drawn to the woman who incites his primal instinct to claim.

And when enemies target the pack, Ally's gift may be just what the Mercury Pack needs.

Can he put his distrust aside, or will he force himself to turn his back on the one woman who makes his inner beast howl?

"hell hath no fury like a woman scorned."

Ally Marshall is a seerer with no pack and no home, all because of one jealous she-bitch who decided to make her life a living hell. She gets put in the hands of Derren, beta wolf of the Mercury Pack, only he's not so thrilled of the babysitting duty, but it's a request he isn't willing to deny.

Pretty much disliked by the entire Mercury pack, with the exception of the alpha female, Ally keeps to herself not wanting to rock any more boats. But as a new threat appears, her gift that they hate is the one that ends up saving life after life.

Dislike becomes curiosity,

"I'll share with you, and you'll share with me."

which turns into one night and then into something more.

"You got under my skin, became my obsession. There's no going back."

"What do you want from me?"

"Everything you have to give."

Blinded by distrust and lust, they can't see what's in front of them all along...

"Stop looking at the world through guarded glasses for just one minute, baby. Listen to your instincts. Don't think...Feel."

Spiral of Need brings us back to the wolves that have a special place in my reading heart, Ms. Wright is amazing in her tales giving us the primal need for control and submission. Derren isn't like most hero's, he doesn't spend time trying to be likable, he just is who he is with no care as to what others think of him. Ally is a strong she-wolf, one to respect and one to root for especially in a fight. What I liked about these two is that they have everything it takes to be an alpha, but they are more than content with the roles they play in the pack, making everyone's safety their priority.

Their connection was hesitant at first, making for some interesting foreplay, but once they gave into their need, they go all in. I swooned, I laughed, loved and wanted to kick some ass, so I think it's safe to say I very much enjoyed their story. The thing with series like this, is that we get to visit with past couples we laughed and fell in love with, making the read much more enjoyable. There are so many other wolves left to claim, wonder whose book is next.

Shelby trains flying monkeys says

Ally Marshall is a seer (means she gets all the feels when she is around someone and has some looks at the possible future) she also happens to be a wolf shifter.

She had been in a relationship with a Beta wolf named Zeke until he met his "true mate" Rachelle. Rachelle is a jealous little she bitch who makes Ally's life a living hell within her pack.

Ally is pretty dominant so she gives as good as she takes...

"You are, you're jealous!"

"Of what exactly? Your manipulative streak? Your distance from reality? The voices in your head that tell you you're pretty?"

It gets so bad that Ally is taken as a favor by a neighboring pack for protection. As a favor to a fellow shifter Derren agrees to protect Ally. Even though he and most of his pack hate her kind (seers)

Ally is a pretty awesome main character though and she starts to win over the pack..and of course hottie Derren.

Guys, this book is full of the smexy times...

Every time I tried to put this book down these two were at it again.

I had to keep reading it of course....for science.

This is not a bad little book though. Romance with some thriller thrown into the mix with a snarky female main character. Hell's yeah.

Though sometimes I did want to say "down boy" give the girl a break.

★★★★ 4 It's-Suzanne-Wright-! stars ;) ★★★★★

First let me start of by saying that, when I first found out SPIRAL OF NEED had finally came out.I was psyched ! In fact so psyched, that I literally dropped everything and pulled an all-nighter for this read as soon as got the book in my hands.

At 12 am I was like, "Sleep ? What's that ? My darlings! Ain't nobody got time for that !"

Lol I'm happy to say I really enjoyed the read. Suzanne Wright's paranormals have always be an auto-buy for me from the moment I fell in love with her characters and story writing style when I first read her Deep in your veins series.

Ill admit I'm not huge fan of her Werewolf series as opposed to her vampire and Demon series.But since I've read all her books I was defiantly excited to read more of her work and re-visit old characters, that I fell in love with in the Phoenix Pack series.

My Thoughts on the book:

Spiral of need was a great one-time read.And I say one time because even though I really did enjoy the writing and the hot chemistry between two main leads.I found the plot-line slightly lacking and weak in comparison to her usual flavor.

Oh yes,don't get me wrong ! There was hell loads of action,great characters and awesome dialogues.But just not enough to give the rating an extra oomph to reach a 5.

My Thoughts on the characters:

I really enjoyed Amy & Derren..I think they're both two great addition to SW's Pack World.I liked the fact that they had strong back-stories that shaped their characters in the plot making them unique from the previous characters but at the same time,similar enough to easily fit in with the rest of the old pack.

I adored both the charterer's individually as well.I loved how AMY (like all other Suzanne Wright's female leads) stayed dominant,sassy and hilarious throughout the read.

While Derren(the male lead) stayed HOT,SEXY,AND AMAZING to the very end. WINK,WINK

Honestly its amazing how all her male leads get me to say..

by the first 20% ;D

Would I recommend the series ?

Well defiantly,If you're a fan of her books.I'm pretty sure you'll find this to be a thoroughly enjoyable read.

Will I be continuing the series ?

A yes to that as well :)

Finger's crossed I know Cain doesn't belong to the Mercury pack .But I really do hope he gets his own book one day...there's something about his character that I really intrigued me.I would love to read how his story goes.

Geri Reads says

It's been a while since I've read a Suzanne Wright book, and I've totally forgotten how entertaining her stories and her characters are. Spiral of Need is the first book from her Mercury Pack series, which spin off of her Phoenix Pack series. And based on what I've read from this book, I'd say this series is off to a good start.

Ally Marshall isn't just a shifter, she's a seer too. After being driven off out of her old pack by a jealous mate, Ally had no choice but to accept shelter from Derren Hudson, beta shifter of the Mercury Pack, even though Derren and most of the Mercury shifters hate seers like her. Derren for his part can't say no because he owes a favor to one of the members of Ally's foster family. Despite Derren's prejudice against seers, he was taken aback by his attraction to Ally and vice versa. More so with the fact that Ally isn't quite the monster they thought she is. She's loyal, capable, and she doesn't abuse her gifts unlike most seers he knew.

Ally for her part, just wants to belong. Because of the prejudice of other shifters against seers like her, she's learned to isolate herself from the pack. But the longer she stayed with the Mercury pack, the more she wants to stay and belong. Of course, she's also very attracted to Derren and no amount of self-preservation could temper their blazing attraction to each other.

Derren and Ally's chemistry was one of the reasons I enjoyed this book a lot. Despite Derren's prejudice, he can't seem to stop himself from craving Ally. Seeing their feelings grow and the way they tried to fight against it was fun to read. The conflict as a whole, between the Mercury Pack and the person behind the attacks on the pack wasn't very strong but it was developed enough that it held my attention. Although, the reveal was a bit anti-climactic for me. The secondary conflict with Ally's old pack was better developed. I personally enjoyed the "trial by combat" between Ally and a former pack mate.

Overall, a very enjoyable and fun read. I read it straight through. The humor wasn't as prominent as Feral Sins but I didn't mind because the steam factor more than made up for the lack of humor. If you're looking for something light and fun, I'd recommend this book.

Seriously, GR. How about some auto save feature??? Is that too hard for you??

Anyway, I liked this book. But now I can't articulate again the reasons why because GR has decided to be a twatwaffle.

*His hunger for her wasn't soft or tame or romantic. It was vicious, sharp edged, and biting.
It was raw desperation that had teeth and claws, and it had him in a tight grip.*

Spiral of Need is the spin off series from Suzanne Wright's Phoenix Pack series. And while it's book 1 in this new series, I'd highly recommend starting with Phoenix Pack first because there's a lot of interconnecting characters and readers coming into this without having read the other series first may find themselves lost. Although there is plenty of background given on the story, reading Phoenix Pack first will simply give a much needed background on certain situations in the story and the characters that take place here.

I've been a huge fan of this author since I first read Feral Sins, and while none of the other books have lived up to the greatness of the first, I still find myself gravitating towards them when I'm craving a fun and super sexy PNR book.

Ally Marshall is a wolf shifter and a seer. Her kind isn't exactly revered in the shifter community, but her current predicament with her pack has less to do with that and more to do with a psychotic mate of her ex boyfriend. Calling in a favor, Ally finds herself under the protection of the Mercury Pack, where she seems to be even less welcome for her seer abilities, though without a psycho female determined to drive her crazy at every corner.

Derren Hudson despises her kind, and with good reason too. A seer once cost him everything. But a favor to a friend finds him protecting her while realizing that the burning lust he feels whenever he's near her won't go ignored for long.

Spiral of Need is nothing new that I haven't read from this author before, but no less entertaining. You have yourself a sassy, kick-ass heroine and a domineering male. A whole lot of fun banter and all the favorites from the previous books making an appearance.

She likes to see me in pain. She's a sadist."

"My daughter is NOT a sadist." Shay took her daughter with a playful huff.

"She shoved a breadstick up Greta's nose."

"Because she senses evil."
Darren blinked. "I can't argue with that."

The one thing that did intrigue me quite a bit here was the introduction of a few secondary characters that I'm really hoping will be getting their own book soon. ESPECIALLY one particular sociopath. What can I say? I love me the crazy ones.

Full of action, snarky banter, and sizzling steam, Spiral of Need definitely hit the spot and I can't wait for more in this series.

Re-read: 3/14/16...after watching my favorite show Bitten, I'm in a werewolf mood...

4 Solid Shifter Stars

I read my first Suzanne Wright back when Feral Sins had just arrived on Amazon - before that scene was edited out lol...

...and before I had discovered GR in 2012.

Well, since then, I have been "found."

And I have read ALL of Suzanne Wright's books and count her as one of my favorite go-to authors.

In fact, there is only one of her books that I didn't really like (looking at you Carnal Secrets) and even that I gave 3 stars and have still re-read a couple times since.

I will preface this "review" by stating this:

I personally wouldn't attempt to read this book if you haven't read The Phoenix Series first.

Without doing so, you might be a little lost as, 1) All the characters from those book make an appearance in this one and 2) This book might just seem mediocre to you if you haven't got the full backstory..."flavor" provided by all the other preceding books.

But on to Spiral of Need.

Derren is the Beta of the Mercury Pack, which we were introduced to in Books 3 and 4 of the Phoenix Pack series. Ally is a "pack hopper" and also a Seer.

See why you need to read the others?

But anyprequels, I'm just gonna be honest and say that Wright pretty much follows her "formula" as far as the male/female characterizations and plot lines go.

Derren is a domineering Alpha-male, Ally is a badass chick with an attitude, Greta gets in everyone's way and gets blasted by one-liner comebacks, and Dominic brings his cheesy come-ons with his usual sexy flair.

In other words, the wheel is by no means reinvented here.

And you know what?

Because.

I.

Dig.

It.

If it ain't broke, why fix it people.

And my skanky ass likes the roll of this wheel just fine.

I really liked Ally. She was Taryn-crazy, but had some Roni-poise and I really enjoyed her as a character. Also, she and Derren were really hot together.

My only complaints:

The Derren/Ally sexy time seemed to be a little more...rushed...and not as "in depth" as it usually is...and the plot line wasn't the strongest one I have ever seen from Wright.

But like I said:

Homie don't care.

It totally worked for me.

And I can't wait for the next one!

I am a great fan of Suzanne Wright since reading her Deep in Your Veins Series.

Spiral of Need is the 1st book in the Mercury Pack Series, a spinoff from her other shifter series, The Phoenix Pack, which I haven't read yet. Although this book can be read as a standalone, I would have liked to have read the Phoenix Pack series before to know more about the characters from it that make appearances in this book. However, the author gives us quite a bit of back-story on the characters and their stories which is interwoven rather well into this book's story.

Ally Marshall a Seer wolf-shifter, gifted with the ability to see the future finds herself in a dangerous position with her pack after being falsely accused of acts she never committed. When Cain, her closest childhood friend presently incarcerated for some infringement and unable to rescue Ally, calls on a friend to keep Ally safe until he's released.

Derren Hudson, the Mercury Pack's Beta wolf is not exactly happy with his friend's request but he feels obligated to agree as he owes Cain a favor. Not only does Derren distrust all Seers but most of the Mercury Pack members as well. He has to deal with Ally's uncertainty with the move and also convince his pack to accept her temporarily.

Despite his dislike for Ally at first, he finds himself unwillingly attracted to her.

He's impressed with her strength and independence and the way she cares for those who are in pain.

Ally is the kind of heroine I adore! She's caring, honest, strong, kick-ass, takes no sh@@@ from anyone and is not afraid to speak her mind and sensitive.

She's always been a loner. She can't be with large crowds for too long as she can pick up everyone's future in her head, which becomes overwhelming and painful. But the more time she spends with Derren, the more she begins to like and respect him, even enjoying their time together.

The relationship between the two builds slowly as they get to know each other. The way Derren convinced or tried to for Ally to see that there is more to life.....

Derren has never been the touchy and affectionate kind of guy with people, but with Ally- possessive, protective and he wants her.

"I'm keeping you, Ally Marshall." And she'd just have to accept it, because he wouldn't let her go "You're mine."
Startled and spooked by that very sincere announcement that almost sounded....binding, Ally didn't speak for a moment. "Yours?"
"All mine. You got under my skin, became my obsession. There's no going back."
She swallowed nervously. "What do you want from me?"
"Everything you have to give. And I'll get it."

Their sexual chemistry and the build-up to finally giving in to their attraction was pretty awesome...

The dialogue and banter between them and with the other characters is witty and beyond sparkly!!!!

I loved the secondary characters. They were engaging and totally appealing. I enjoyed the connection between the different packs and the sense of family and loyalty and protectiveness they feel for each other.

This was a good start to her new series and I am rather looking forward to the next book....in the meantime, I am going to get straight into the Phoenix Pack Series!!!!

Me LIKE.

But.

BUT.

I do sense a pattern.

Why break what works, right? :D

This is my third book by Suzanne Wright and I do have to say there are definite similarities in all of them.

- ✓A kickass dominate female who takes no shit from males.
- ✓A hero afraid of love and bonding.
- ✓Crazy sex with lots of biting.
- ✓A wtf true-mate-bond-snapping moment.

Did I cover it all? :D

Oh, and of course this:

With that said, I am planning to read the latest installment of this series . But I do think I need a break because it's getting a bit repetitive.

So I will save it for a day when the mood strikes. :)

Do you really even need a synopsis? It's werewolf porn. That makes me say . . .

Not even sorry. I luuuuuuurv me some werewolves

Alright alright – here's a plot summary. (If you've read much werewolf stuff you'll probably recognize it.) Ally is a lone wolf (hyuck hyuck). Orphaned as a child she was adopted by a "foster family" who raised her and has spent her adult years moving from pack to pack. Due to a serious case of sour grapes with the Beta female of her current pack, it's time for Ally to move on – and due to a favor owed by Mercury Pack member Derren to Ally's foster brother Cain, it's up to his pack to take her in and offer her protection until Cain is released from prison. There's only one problem – Ally is not only a shifter, but also a "Seer" – and Derren has a biiiiig problem with Seers. You know what that means, right????

Exactly. And then . . .

If you're in to alpha males (well, technically he's a Beta – but he likes to be in charge when it comes to quality time in the sack) and seriously taking it to pound town this one will probably be right up your alley. The plot was interesting and although I figured out early on who it was who was up to no good it kept my attention (#sploosh). Spiral of Need is also apparently a spin-off from a previous series, but there were enough snippets given regarding prior characters/scenarios that I never felt out of the mix. And as familiar as the love/hate werewolf storyline was, there were a couple of new things for me – like a gay werewolf couple. Unfortunately they were only on screen for about two pages and were only mentioned due to their love for interior decorating (way to really break the stereotype there Suzanne Wright), but at least it was acknowledged that not all werewolves would be hetero. I also learned about the most sacred gift a female were can give to her mate . . .

(view spoiler)

Wow. Didn't expect that.

Anyway, if you're like me and use the classification "Because He Looks Like A Werewolf" as a descriptor when speaking to your significant other, you should probably check this out. Examples of the aforementioned terminology are as follows:

SCENARIO 1

Husband: What are you watching?

Me: Teen Wolf . . .

Husband: Good Christ, those boys are like 12!

Me: too busy drooling to speak

SCENARIO 2

Husband: Oh, you're going to watch Big Brother with me and the kids?

Me: Yeah, Austin looks like he could be a werewolf . . .

SCENARIO 3

Husband: You've been listening to The Killers a lot lately.

Me: Yeah, Brandon Flowers looks like a very metrosexual werewolf . . .

SCENARIO 4

Husband: You're going to watch the Royals game?!?!?!?!?

Me: They're playing the Orioles. Manny Machado looks like a baby werewolf . . .

SCENARIO 5

Husband: Honey that Volkswagen commercial with the werewolf-looking-mofo is on again.

Me: BEST. HUSBAND. EVER!!!!

~4.5 I NEED MORE NOW STARS~

Spiral of Need is another winner by Werewolf PRN Author Suzanne Wright! She has a formula for her alpha males and leading ladies that always draws me in and holds me captive until the last word is consumed!

As Spiral of Need begins, Ally "a seer" (a shifter wolf who has the ability to see the future) finds herself in a precarious predicament with her pack. She has been wrongly accused of injuring her BETA wolf. She is facing judgement and severe bullying by her pack mates. When Ally's childhood friend Cain hears about her troubles, he makes a call to an old friend.

Derren is the BETA wolf of the Mercury Pack. He receives word of Ally's plight. Although he is not a big fan of seers, Derren feels obligated to help her out. After he convinces his pack to take her in, he brings Ally home with him. He plans on watching over her until Cain is able to come and get her. Derren feels loyalty to his friend but is leery of Ally! To his surprise, she is equally as concerned with HIS presence.

"Remember: don't think about running. You wouldn't get far anyway. I have your scent."-Derren

"Let me assure you that if at any point I do decide to leave here, that's exactly what I'll do. But I won't run. I'll walk right on out of here while you watch."-Ally

Ally and Derren are an anomaly. Although Derren has a dislike for Ally's type, he is still drawn to her because she is a strong shifter wolf. Ally is a bit of a loner and yet, she finds herself enjoying Derren's company. The relationship builds at a decent tempo and the dialogue is full of witty banter between the two.

In true Suzanne Wright fashion, we have a heavy dosage of maximum steam. The sexual tension between Derren and Ally doesn't last too long. They quickly recognize that they are attracted to one another and additionally, they are very compatible.

"He kept her so flush against him, it was almost hard to breathe. His hands were firm, purposeful, and possessive as they roved and clutched her hard enough to bruise."

If you have read a Wright book before, you might be wondering if they Derren and Ally are "true mates". Part of the "extra" surprise with this read is the fun of trying to figure that out!

"Understand this, Ally. There is very little I consider an obstacle when I want something. And when I want something as badly as I want you, I won't let anything or anyone keep me from it."-Derren Spiral of Need brings back some favorite characters from the Phoenix Pack as well as giving readers the opportunity to get to know the shifter wolves of the Mercury Pack! Ms. Wright offers a perfect blend of action, passion, and romance! PRN lovers beware~this series is bound to be just as addictive as the first! If you are a fan of "possessive alphas", Derren will give you everything you are looking for!

"He bit her. Just leaned down and sank his teeth into the crook of her neck, making Ally gasp in shock and pleasure. At the same time, his hand snaked under her T-shirt and closed around her breast; it was a hold so possessive, she reflexively growled in warning despite how good it felt. He released a growl of his own, rebelliously gripper her tighter."

Told in dual POV with narration, Spiral of Need can be read as a stand alone! The characters are complex and well developed. Any (and all) background knowledge was covered well so rest assured you will get the full experience when you pick up this book.

Overall, I highly recommend this read! I thoroughly enjoy Ms. Wright's writing style, strong alpha males, and their equally strong female counter parts. The action, romance, and steamy scenes will keep you engaged the entire read! Now, I just have to wait patiently for the next shifter story! Well done, Ms. Wright! Well done!

SHEE-IT!

BUT, DAMN!!!! DID I EVER MISS SUZANNE WRIGHT’S SNARKY AND SEXY WOLVES!!!!
OH YEAH!!!!

Spiral of Need by Suzanne Wright is book one in her new series, The Mercury Pack. This is also a spin-off from her series entitled The Phoenix Pack. I will state that I highly recommend reading The Phoenix Pack series first as you may feel a little lost jumping into this book without having read the four books in the series that started it all. I have loved and adored this author’s PNR books right from the moment I dived right into my first book by her. Ms. Wright pens funny and seriously sexy paranormal tales that are packed full of gorgeous alpha wolves who will do whatever it takes to claim what is theirs. Picking up a new book by this author always leaves me glad to be back in this shifter world full of horny wolf-men and the she-wolves that manage to capture their attention!

Alyssa “Ally” Marshall is a wolf-shifter and a seer. Ever since losing her entire pack at a young age, Ally hasn’t really “belonged” anywhere. Ally has recently lost her boyfriend, Zeke, when he found his true mate. While this hurt her, Ally certainly understood that finding your true mate is always a possibility and she was happy for her boyfriend. What she did not expect is to be targeted by Zeke’s true mate who is attempting to isolate Ally from the pack. When Ally is finally driven off by the insane and jealous mate, she has no choice but to leave and go live with another pack – something that is arranged by a childhood friend and protector of Ally’s.

Derren Hudson is a wolf-shifter and Beta of the Mercury Pack. He's broody, rough-around-the-edges and very anti-social. He also wants nothing to do with seers given his history with one seer in particular. However, when he is asked to take in a seer and offer her protection, it's something that Derren is unable to refuse considering he owes the person doing the asking. When Derren arrives to pick up Ally and escort her to his pack's land, he is taken aback by the primal attraction he feels for the beautiful seer. Matters are made worse by the fact that Ally is equally as attracted to him. How in the hell is he going to manage staying away from her while she is temporarily living with his pack?

At first, Derren and the Mercury Pack are pretty vocal about their disdain when it comes to seers. After all, every single one of them has reason to hate Ally's kind. However, it does not take them long to realize that Ally does not fit the mold when it comes to the seers they have dealt with in the past. She is loyal, strong, compassionate and would never think of abusing her powers as a seer. Derren finds himself spiraling further and further into a web of desire, lust and emotion when it comes to Ally. Will he be able to fully set aside his distrust and embrace what is developing between him and Ally? After her experiences with her previous pack, will Ally be able to open up and be vulnerable, especially when it comes to allowing another male into her life.

I absolutely LOVED Ally. She is one fierce female that I would not want to mess with but, at the same time, she had this vulnerability to her. After experiencing so much prejudice in her life, all she wants is acceptance and the more time she spends with the Mercury Pack the more she wants that acceptance to come from them. The banter exchanged between her and Derren was hilarious and fun as Derren slowly chips away at her defenses and etches his way into her heart. There was no remaining indifferent when you have a strong, sexed-up, alpha-wolf with a steely determination wanting to stake his claim.

"All mine. You got under my skin, became my obsession. There's no going back."

She swallowed nervously. "What do you want from me?"

"Everything you have to give. And I'll get it."

"I'm going to piss you off a lot, Ally. I'm going to mess up, say the wrong things, be crazy jealous, and annoy the shit out of you with how overprotective and interfering I can be. But I'll never take you for granted, never purposely hurt you, and never betray you in any sense of the word – I swear that to you."

I loved Ally and Derren together. Like all of the females this author creates, Ally is a badass heroine who is not going to let any alpha walk all over her. She is just the challenge that Derren needs. She is this fun, smart, loyal and beautiful she-wolf that Derren did not see coming. I loved how Derren could not seem to stop himself when it comes to Ally. Obviously he gives in to his desire for the seer; however, it was fun to watch him struggle at first. It all works out in the end. Our couple gets their HEA and we, as the reader, finish with a deep sigh (or a cold shower). Just saying!

All in all, Spiral of Need is an awesome start to this new spin-off series and is just one more reason why I am seriously addicted to the fantastic paranormal books written by this author. Ms. Wright provides us with a wonderful erotic romance perfectly balanced with some action and suspense. I highly recommend this book and am definitely looking forward to more books.

He bit her neck. "Fine. I love you, even if you are a pushy, interfering fucker at times."

"And I love you, even if I do keep catching you using my razor to shave your legs."

"One time. That happened one time."

And what about wolves???? They are such amazing creatures!!!
This book had all the above and much more...
I had a while to read this kind of book and that was the best way to read this genre again!!!
I loved everything in there... Everything and i'm so satisfied!!!

The story had me all the time on edge... It surprised me in every level...
I loved the storyline and i loved the characters.... All of them!!!
And believe me when i'm saying that they were too many... I think that i met people from 4 or 5 different packs... but Mercury pack was the best!!!

Now, i'm bounded to read Phoenix pack, since i haven't read it yet and since i've met almost everyone from there... and i'm so eager for them... Soon, very soon!!!

But now i have to focus on Ally and Derren!!!
I just have to warn you that many things had happened and i can't reveal you too much...

"Remember: don't think about running. You wouldn't get far anyway. I have your scent."

Her voice hardened. "Let me assure you that if at any point I do decide to leave here, that's exactly what I'll do. But I won't run. I'll walk right on out of here while you watch."

Ally Marshall hadn't an easy life... From her youngest years she had to change pack after pack since she lost her own when she was still very young...

In the latest pack that she had join she is facing too many problems...

They accusing her that she was trying to kill a woman even though that this accusation isn't true at all and all the other wolves are treated her with malice.

Now Ally is feeling angry, isolated and disrespectful...

Derren Hudson is the Beta of Mercury pack and when an old friend asking him a big favor he can't refuse, since he owns him, but his being is against that action. But he has no choice. He has to protect Ally Marshall, even though she is a Seer. So he is taking her to his pack for a while...

Ally feels happy that she is finally away from her previous pack but she still feels isolated from the new one... Everyone is suspicious for her behalf and she feels awkward and strange...

Almost everyone in this pack had issues with a Seer and they can't accepted her so easily.

And Derren is the worst of them all... She feels his hatred in her bones...

But as the time is passing and after many attempts against the pack, the other wolves are starting to get to know her and to respect her...

As for Derren??? As much as he wants to stay away from her, he just can't... Something is drowning him toward Ally. Something strong and primal and irresistible...

But the same goes for Ally. She wants him and even though she can't aloud to herself to come very close to him, it's impossible...

Will they resist to that pull or will they become slaves of this passion???

And what they are feeling is just passion or is it something much more???

Will the pack fully accept Ally??? And who is hiding behind all this killing attempts against Mercury and Phoenix pack???

And Ally's problems are over from her previous pack or will they follow her there too???

Our heroes have lots of problems to face and this ride was amazing!!!

Ally was a badass heroine. She was strong, indepented,clever and really funny.

Seers were having a bad reputations and that's because of their power. Many of them took advantage of that power, but not Ally. You're propably wonder what means to be a Seer... It is when you have premonitions of the future. But Ally had another power too. She could sense the feelings around her and that power many times was difficult to bare. So she prefered to be isolated, but she needed people around her. She was a dominant wolf and she wasn't good at following orders. She and her wolf was in absolute harmony and both of them were drowing toward Derren. The only thing that she was longing was acceptance and respect...

Derren was a dominant wolf himself. He was a Beta on his pack but he wasn't so happy about that!!! His past wasn't good also. Because of a mean Seer his life was destroyed and that was the reason why he was so suspicious toward Ally. For the first moment the pull toward her was too big and he didn't know what to do about that. He started to feel lust, passion and protectiveness about Ally and when he finally make her his, his situation was crazy. He was a possessive, protective bastard but i really liked that side of him. He was cute!!! He couldn't stand anyone around Ally, especially a male...

Those two together were absolute perfection. They fit so good together... Everything was intense and primal with those two... Even though when they were making sex, it was like they were fighting who will dominate above the other and that was very interesting to witness...

"I'm keeping you, Ally Marshall."

And she'd just have to accept it, because he wouldn't let her go.

"You're mine."

Startled and spooked by that very sincere announcement that almost sounded... binding, Ally didn't speak for a moment.

"Yours?"

"All mine. You got under my skin, became my obsession. There's no going back."

She swallowed nervously.

"What do you want from me?"

"Everything you have to give. And I'll get it."

I also have to say that i really liked all the other members of the pack. They were so united! Their bond was full of loyalty, respect and appreciation. They were watching each other back and they were there for everything that anybody needs... And i liked the way they embraced Ally when the suspicion fade away...

I never want to stop reading about those guys!!! I like them so much!!!

"I'm just making my point that I don't trust Seers." Ally smiled gently. "Admitting your problem is the first step to recovery."

"You need to seriously rethink defying me." "And guys need to stop shoving their hands down their pants to play with their balls in public." Ally shook her head. "Some things will never change."

So Suzanne Wright is one of my favorite authors, and I love her series The Phoenix Pack. So when I heard she was doing a spin off series called The Mercury Pack, which is the new pack Nick Axton (3rd book in The Phoenix Pack series) formed with his mate, I was like Hell yeah I am so there!! Spiral of Need is the first book in the Mercury Pack series, and it is a awesome start to what I am sure with be a great series. I can't tell you how excited I got when I saw it was on NetGalley. I so did a freak out fan girl dance.

Ally, on the other hand, wanted to ask why the hell Bracken had let Jesse win. When all eyes zoomed in on her, she smiled weakly. "I said that out loud, huh,"

"Your scent.... It makes me want to bite you."

What this book is about

Derren Hudson, Beta of the Mercury Pack always keeps his word. So when an old friend Cain calls in a favor Derren feels obligated to do it. Cain wants Derren to go get Ally Marshall from the pack she is in now that is giving her problems, and take her to The Mercury pack, and keep her under Derren's protection until Cain can get to her. The problem with that is Ally is a Seer and Derren Hates all Seers. Seers have hurt him and his pack and he doesn't trust any of them. Derren feeling that he owes Cain, goes to get Ally despite his feelings towards Seers. When he sees her not only does he want her, but his wolf is going crazy wanting to mark her. Derren feels angry about the whole situation, and confused about him and his wolf's attraction to Ally. When Ally starts having visions about danger coming to the Mercury Pack will Derren believe her or will he let his prejudice of Seers keep him from protecting his pack?

"Understand this, Ally. There is very little I consider an obstacle when I want something. And when I want something as badly as I want you, I won't let anything or anyone keep me from it. I marked you, and I don't consider that a small thing. Do you?"

"No. You like me pinning you down." It was a taunt that made her growl. "And you like me fucking you hard, don't you, baby? You like having my cock in you."

I love both Derren and Ally. Derren is broody, serious, and loyal to those who he cares about. Derren has been hurt badly, and deeply by his family and pack so he doesn't trust easily. Dominant, damaged, sexy , and protective he is everything you want from an alpha male hero. Ally is kind of a wanderer. Her family and pack were assassinated when she was a small child. Her and Cain are the only two that lived. She has always felt that she didn't really belong. On top of that being a Seer with all the prejudices against Seers makes her feel more like a outcast. Even with all that has happened to her, she is still a sweet, caring woman. She is brave, protective, and saucy. Being a dominant wolf she is very independent. And lets not leave out that she is totally badass.

"I'm keeping you, Ally Marshall." And she'd just have to accept it, because he wouldn't let her go "You're mine." Startled and spooked by that very sincere announcement that almost sounded....binding, Ally didn't speak for a moment. "Yours?" "All mine. You got under my skin, became my obsession. There's no going back." She swallowed nervously. "What do you want from me?" "Everything you have to give. And I'll get it."

"You love me?" He smiled. "Fuck yeah." "I'm glad, because it's rare for one-sided relationships to work out well." His smile widened. "Is that your very poor way of telling me you love me?" "It was pretty poor, wasn't it?"

Derren and Ally are a very cute couple. They both know what it is like to be falsely accused of something horrible and have everyone they care about turn their backs on them. Their chemistry is wild and rough. Ally and Derren are a kickass team. As a couple they support each other . They know when to push and when to give in. I think they are perfect for each other. I love that with each book you get to see more of the past characters from The Phoenix Pack series. That as a reader we get to see their characters continue to grow and add on to the story line, making me feel really connected and attached to them. I enjoyed the plot and that there is a lot of action in this book. I think this book is a great read and start to the series and I can't wait to see what happens next.

"But you forgive me for baiting him, don't you baby?" He asked Ally. Not really, but she'd have him make it up to her later with multiple orgasms. Hearing Cain and her uncles growl, Ally smiled weakly at Derren. "I said that out loud, didn't I?"
