Kate says

Zero knows the mysterious transfer student. She says her name is Maria, but Zero knows she is the one who killed his family, because she bit him and now they have a blood bond. Unfortunately, this blood bond also makes it impossible for Zero to kill her, as he intended. Yuki witnesses the battle between the two, but after Kaname erases her memories of the incident, Yuki decides she must save Zero from becoming a Level E vampire. At the school ball, Yuki leaves to track down Maria and save Zero.

The clothes are great, and the characters' eyes are weirdly haunting and expressive. I like Yuki's relationships with Kaname and Zero and I'm interested to see where each leads...

Wow, die Reihe ist einfach am Anfang so spannend!
Dieser Band hat weniger Witz als seine Vorgänger, dafür mehr Gefühl und Drama, gerade zum Ende hin.
Wahnsinn!

I love this series more and more with each installment. I need to buy the rest of the series immediately ~runs and checks piggy bank~

My favourite quotes:

"Maybe the reason I managed to live on for so long...is because you were always by side" Zero

"I can't afford to lose you." Kaname

And here are some images for your enjoyment

A transfer student for the Night Class arrives, Maria Kurenai, and causes unease to the entire Night Class cohort. Zero also feels something oddly repulsive about the new student, and warns Yuki to stay away from her. Kaname, the Night Class leader, is composed as ever, but he doesn't let his guard down and sends his subordinate to watch over the mysterious vampire transferee.

A lot more has been revealed in this book: a cure to end the mad thirst for blood for human vampires, the extent of a true-blood's vampiric power (true-blood: a vampire that is not tainted with human blood), the arrival of those from Zero's past, some gore and blood spill—all while their school prepares for a big dance!

FYI: Season 1 of the anime adaptation of Vampire Knight covers book volumes 1 to 5)

This series keeps getting better and better and Vampire Knight 4 is no exception! I loved this installment. Some of the artwork where Zero and Yuki were depicted together were absolutely magical!

I loved the scene where Zero was tutoring Yuki and she notices something is wrong with him. I just stared at those pages because they were drawn so beautifully. Matsuri Hino is truly a master of her craft, no doubt! The detail and thought she puts into her characters, drawings and scenes is sheer perfection!

In this book, the true identity of Maria Kurenai is unfolded. It turns out she is Shizuka Sama, the pure vampire that killed Zero's Vampire Knight Family and gave Zero his life as a vampire hindering him from exacting revenge on her, which is ultimately the only thing Zero is after. To save Zero from becoming a Level E, Maria makes Yuki a proposition. Maria will save Zero but only if Yuki sacrifices herself or defies Kaname's trust and hands over his corpse. At the final hour while Yuki is making this difficult decision, we have a new character come into the scene, Tchiro, which turns out to be Zero's older twin brother.

((GASP!!!))

I can't wait to jump into the next book, but at the same time I'm struggling with finishing this manga series so quickly because I love it!!

Good to see the Vampire Knight class again. It was also good to see the vampire that turned Zero. Glad we were able to meet Zero's twin also.

Can't wait to read Vampire Knight volume 5!!!!

Kaname killed Shizuka, another pure blood Vampire!!!

I'm sure there are some rules against it... It's forbidden!

Okay, you maybe thinking "What's wrong with this person, does she only read Mangas?!" The quickest answer would be, yes.

Volume 4 is definitely the favourite thus far. This delves deeper into Zeros past. More so , you meet the person responsible for his current affliction - Shizuka-Hio. In order for a human to become a Vampire, they must be bitten by a Pureblood. But this Pureblood is an enigma, even amongst her own kind. However the greatest revelation is the appearance of Zeros long lost kin.

Kaname shows a deviant side of himself. One that clearly defines that all are expendable when it comes to protecting what he considers his.

Shannon says

I must be a really shallow person because I honestly cared a lot more about the romance in this volume than the actual plot. There were some heavy storylines going on. A couple of important people from Zero's past showed up and all I could think about was the school dance going on. I was so into this whole Zero/Yuki/Kaname dynamic. It was like I was a teenage girl all over again. There were so many interactions between Zero and Yuki that had me swooning. I wanted them to get together so badly. I'm not sure where the story is going to go now that the big situation with (view spoiler) is resolved, but can I just say that that final panel was great? I definitely wasn't expecting that from Kaname.

Jody Mena says

As beautiful and dramatic as ever, this is the quintessential gothic vampire romance manga. This book was wonderful in my opinion. There was quite a lot of plot advancement, at least compared to previous books. A number of new twists evolved in the plot, and a number of burning questions were answered, though mostly just with more questions. The revelation that Shizuka has come to Cross Academy - and that she is Zero's master - and that Zero's brother is also her slave - and that Headmaster Cross has no idea what is going on... the characters are tying themselves in to some rather complex knots! The book ended rather abruptly on an unexpected cliffhanger, with Kaname's clawed hand protruding through Shizuka's chest as he embraces her so gently from behind. The looks on their faces, hers of slack, wide-eyed surprise, and his of gentle melancholy, are so spectacularly out of place that it's jarring, and ends the book with intense suspense. It really drives you to run out and find the next book - which I intend to do with all possible haste. My favorite thing about this manga is the artwork, but now the story is getting really good too!
