Karen says

Probably 4+ really. But not quite worthy of a 5.

Janie says

A really entertaining collection of stories. my personal favourite was Lonely Is The Night. This started out as a bog standard vampire tale, but it ended up blowing me away with its take on the situation. The twist near the end was superb.

Having recently reviewed this early edition of Kaleen Rae, and although I am happy with the caliber of the stories within, I have to be honest and say that the book is in need of a serious re-edit... It is high on my to do list.

Abby Cornwell says

Entertaining collection of horror/paranormal tales.

Jacqueline Lehrer says

actually i am almost done reading this book, but i wanted to write my review lest i forget my obligation to do so as a goodreads book giveaway winner. the collection of stories reminds me of Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark by Alvin Schwartz with a more adult tone. the stories go under your skin as only macabre stories do. most of the stories are relatively short so it is a quick read though the subject matter may have you turning it over in your head hours later. enjoy, it is a trip.

This book contains a selection of updated stories, which I originally wrote over the course of a few years.

This is a collection of macabre tales, featuring subjects of paranormal fantasy, bizarre science and gritty horror.

I hope you enjoy reading Kaleen Rae: And Other Weird Tales.

Three-and-a-half stars.

Kaddi says

This is a collection of 7stories and a poem which combine to provide an interesting mixture of stories.

KALEEN RAE: is the title story and reads like an adult fairytale.

It is a good read and ambles along without providing any forewarning of the horrors in store. 5 stars.

PAYBACK: is the story of a young man who despises his work colleagues. Very good. 5 stars.

THE HUNT: a really different werewolf tale. This made me quite sad by the end. 4stars.

THE STRANGE CASE AT MISTY RIDGE: a haunted house story. Loved this. 5 stars.

LONELY IS THE NIGHT: a vampire story. Loved the twist near the end. 5stars.

SKIN DEEP: love doesn't always run smooth. 3stars.

HEATH HOUSE: this is a poem about a haunted house. It was okay but felt out of place amongst the other stories. 2stars.

DARK ANGEL: this was maybe closer to sci-fi than horror but I really enjoyed it a lot. Its just a shame this story didn,t go on longer as I wanted to know what happened to them next, but a nice tale of an unlikely love.

5stars.

Some interesting stories in this collection; plus a few excellent ones. The title story Kaleen Rae was my favorite.
