Candy Apple books . . . just for you. Sweet. Fresh. Fun. Take a bite!

Jenna Sampson, perfectly normal seventh grader and editor of the school newspaper, is mortified. Her parents are opening a super-embarrassing juice bar at the mall. Jenna has to work there . . . and wear a ridiculous uniform. She's pretty sure her life can't get worse, until she finds out that the school paper might shut down.

But the gossip Jenna overhears from the juice bar is totally newsworthy, which gives her a great idea. A gossip column could be a huge hit and save the paper --- or cause a ton of trouble!

Another fake book. Nothing seemed real! It's all about this girl whose parents get a juice bar restaurant at the food court in the mall. The girl hates shopping, so it's a burden, not a blessing. Then the school newspaper is in danger of being cut (Oh no! The horror!) so the girl starts a gossip section in the paper to get people to buy it, using gossip she hears from girls in the mall - gee, I don't know how that could go wrong, do you?

Emily says

Personally I love this book in many different ways. I wasn't able to put the book down and when I did I was eager to get back in to it because it was probably that I was sleeping or in the car! I personally think that if you are looking to read a book in less than 24 hours and just need something to just do I recommend this book. I do not like how they didn't say who the princess and prince was at the end, but it was kinda obvious and that was just one thing out of 176 pages!

What i've learned from this book is that the main character is slick. her name is Jenna Thompson and she is a normal seventh grader and her schools newspaper editor. but she and her friend Keisha just found out that the school district will have to shut down some of there curricular activities. so Jenna starts a gossip colum called "Juicy Gossip" to try to make people read the paper more. when she thought that it was kbow use her parents opened up their smoothie shop and the two meanest girls at there school Stacy and Jasmine are at the mall close by Jenna's parents smoothie bar and she overhears there conversations and types them in the paper but when she goes to school on Monday everyone is really mad at "Miss Mango" or a.k.a Jenna but don't know who is writning these Juicy stories about everyone even though some of them like the school publicity. So Stacey and Jasmine start hanging out with Jenna to see what she knows and Keisha gets mad at Jenna becasue she thinks Jenna would rather hang out with Stacy and Jasmine. I predict that in the end everyone will know that Jenna did what she did for a good reason

Juicy Gossip is about a girl. She is head of the newspaper committee. Her parents opened a juice bar and now she is mortified, because its in the middle of the mall where everybody from school will be YIKES!!!! On top of that The newspaper might be shut down!!! In order to stop that she puts the school gossip in the newspapers so more school kids will read them, and the newspaper committee will not have to be shut down.

Although seventh grader Jenna Sampson is editor of the school paper, she couldn't feel further away from being in the know of popular topics, interests, and gossip in her school.

Her parents are opening a juice bar in the middle of the mall, and not only does Jenna hate the mall, but she doesn't even like juice. So, now that her parents are forcing her to work there three days a week (and wear a pineapple hat -- no kidding), Jenna is terrified that her nonexistent popularity could go further into the negative. That is, if anyone notices she's there.

As if that wasn't bad enough, Jenna has just found out that her beloved paper might be cut from the curriculum, along with a bunch of other activities. She writes a front page article about it, begging other students to rise up and fight the budget cuts, but she's horrified to find that no one even reads the paper that she puts so much work into.

Jenna is going to have to find some way to get the other students to take notice. Lucky for her, she seems to overhear a lot of gossip at the counter of the food court. Could a gossip column work to save the school paper?

Even though Jenna comes off as a highly eccentric heroine (sometimes distractingly so), one can appreciate her struggle as she weighs moral choices against accomplishing a worthy, selfless end.

I read this as part of my job to see what age group it would be appropriate for and I must say that it was very cute, appropriate for (I'd say) grades 4-7, and that I would actually read more of this series!

Kudos to the Candy Apple writers!
