Real Love Alexandria House

Outspoken and more than capable of backing up her words, loan officer, Denise Buhari, is finally back on her feet after years of rebuilding her life following a horrible marriage and divorce. But just when she is ready to head into a future she's sure will be bright, the rug is pulled out from under her again.

Tattoo artist, Hasaan Peterson, meets Denise through her job, and although their relationship is initially contentious, it soon blossoms into a friendship that leads them to passionate feelings neither can deny.

Could it be that Denise and Hasaan are destined to share a love that is unavoidable and undeniable...a real love?

Loved this series. Great ending, but sorry to see it end. The love between Denise, Trevia, Greer and their men was real. This book with Denise was something else. Full of laughter, tears and shocks. Loved Denise and would not want to cross her. Great job and looking forward to more from you Alexandria.

What a twist!

I think Hasaan and Denise are my favorite couple. Their story was the funniest. Their drama was the craziest! I loved the love after series as a whole because each woman had a unique and relatable experience with love. Everyone could take some knowledge from each woman's journey because they were so true. Each story had a common theme, no matter what happens in your life, when it's meant to be it will be.

Loved It

This whole series was fantastic! Denise was absolutely crazy and I loved it. Between Greer and Trevia, I thought Denise was stronger and was more confident. I loved that she was a plus size woman and thought she was beautiful. She didn't diet and she loved to eat and she real food. I also loved H and loved that he was an unconventional hero, he owned his own tattoo shop. His family background was definitely different and the author handles a big surprise towards the end of the book in an honest and realistic way. Denise could be crazy sometimes but I couldn't help but love her, and I loved seeing how much H adored her. Hate to see this series end. Maybe the next book can feature Kayla and her new boo, Denise's ex?

The twist in this one!

Finally, it's Denise's turn! I was intrigued by who would end up with Denise's hot-headed, crazy self. I was thinking it might be Christian, but I'm glad it wasn't. He sounded like a good dude, but not the one for Denise. Mr. Hasaan Patterson was definitely the man for that job.

I was kinda side-eyeing (and judging) Hasaan when he and Denise first met at the bank because of his financial woes, but he quickly made me change my mind. That's one hard-working man! He stayed on his grind trying to make his dream come true. And he was apologetic for acting a fool, then grateful for the advice Denise gave him. He was all good with me after that.

I liked the way this relationship unfolded; they distrust jump right in, but talked and were friends first. But when it was on, it was on! I'm glad, too, that we were finally able to get the whole story on what happened in Denise's first marriage, after hearing bits and pieces in the other books. Kevin definitely made things right, lol.

Denise's mama was a mess, but I liked her. I think we all knew someone like her growing up. She is who she is, and she ain't sorry about it, lol.

Ms House always gives her characters interesting back stories, but Hasaan's takes the cake. I suspected the twist early on, but kept thinking that can't be it. When the truth came out, I was blown away!

Thanks for another good read!

Each book in the series was better than the one before

I was looking for a book to read and noticed how many stars this author's second book in her second series received. Book 2 of 3 are usually not good so for hers to have so many positive reviews I knew I had to read it. After reading that series I knew that I had to find more of her books.

The first book in this Love After Book series was ok but each book got better and better. Until I couldn't put this book down.

Alexandria House keep writing.

Outstanding!

This was a great ending to the love series. Denise remind me so much of Mya from the show Girlfriends with a little more edge. I am so glad Denise became an entrepreneur. I'm glad she found someone who loved her for her craziness and knew how to compliment her personality. The kicker for me was how Hasan's brother was really his son. That was a great twist in the story. I loved how they all came together as a family to support one another and especially loved the spoken word Nyles presented to Denier from Hasan. Hopefully we can get more stories of their journeys together since the girls are all expecting. I'm pretty sure it will be some great drama and more homemade love created.

So good!

I definitely did not see that twist in the plot coming! That book was good. I kinda figured it would be Chris at the end

Short, sweet, sexy..... H and Denise, Yeah!

Alexandria first of all, I'm having a clear visual of H's big d'k!!! Then I'm having so much fun in one minute and yelling at my Kindle in the next... Some might say that's a sign of either being crazy, or the author wrote the heck out of the story. In this case, I'm going with the latter. Here's the good good on this story. Denise met Haasan when he stopped into her bank seeking a loan to open a tattoo joint.... Even though she thought he was a hot drop of chocolatey goodness, she denied his loan, and he lost his temper and went off on her. Even with his rudeness Denise gave him a few suggested ways to fund his new venture. Thankfully her ideas eventually panned out for Haasan. So far so good right? Now meet Denise's mother. The best smack talker this side of the Mississippi... She had me cracking up most of the time with her smart remarks to Denise. And the fact that she and Denise were knee high to a grasshopper, made it more hilarious.. Then Rafiq had an interestingness in his character who sometimes had me scratching my head a few times over his behavior... It will be clearer in the end.

I always like to hear from previous characters as they add nicely to the storyline. And did I mention the chemistry between Haasan and Denise was sizzling hot!!!! I liked the connection between them and the dialogue was laugh out loud funny. Denise reminded me of Maxine on Living Single... I really liked her character. And another thing to tell you about.... Yeah. Her! the old hag in the story The pedi whore beatch? The old lady needed hands lain on her.... I was cheering Denise on.. Old girl got just what her nasty butt deserved. Dang pedi whore. My favorite as you can tell was Denise.. Little miss was bad ass. Short stuff was an asskicker, snacktalking, littlething..... Sexy, sweet and so much fun.. Great job Alexandria!

Sherry Rowe says

This book was a great read! So much fun, I laughed out loud too many times. It had me reading when I should have been sleeping... when I should have been working...when I should have been cleaning, cooking...I couldn't put it down. It incorporated the characters from the other two books so that I wasn't left wondering what happened to them, which is often the case with so many series. The twist near the end made my head spin. Denise is my hero! Alexandria House is an amazing talent. I first discovered her in the McClain Brother's series and made it my mission to read all of her books. Mission complete! I now anxiously await the next book from her. I recommend not only this book but everything that Ms. House has written. #LoveAfterSeries #HappyReading

The Book Junkie Reads . . . says

Denise was a bang and then some . . .

Denise was the kind of ride-or-die kinda girl that many men want but lots pass by because of the outward appearance. Denise had worked hard to get herself out of the mess that she got in to because of some good sex. Never wanting to get lost on that road again she finds another direction to fall in to. Haasan Peterson finds that he may have made an enemy or a friend when he blows up on the wrong person in a business setting.

Alexandria gives us raw grit, fierce protection, small twist, a little shaddy, and all a very good read from the beginning to the end. With each new addition from this author I find more to come back for. The real characters, the strong writting, the intensity behind the relationships, the connection that brings it all together.

Shawnette says

I thoroughly enjoyed this short HOT and SPICY read! Denise and Hasaan's journey to love was OFF-THE-CHARTS...once again the DRAMA is engaging...and the cast of characters is just as COLORFUL and lively as in the previous two books. KUDOS Ms. House on such an ENTERTAINING series...looking forward to reading more from this author.

Crazy love!

Denise was a damn trip! Beat ass or tear up shit and ask questions later. Hassan was a tall dark beautiful drink of water that was working hard to live his dreams and move his life forward. After hitting some road blocks Denise helped him do just that and in the progress he helped calm her down and showed her what love was really like. I love black love stories because I can relate to them. It's the language, the gestures, the men good lawd. I loved the series good work Ms. House.

Theresa Tolbert says

Really Enjoyable Series

I really enjoyed this series about beautiful black love. I actually hate to see the series end and hope to read about these characters in upcoming books by Ms. House.

For potential readers: This book is for an adult crowd who enjoy steamy screens and a little drama. This book can be read as a stand alone but I would recommend reading all 3 books in the series.

Heather Hodges says

Things that make you say HMMMMM!

I enjoyed reading Hasaan and Denise' story. Their story had a lot of twist and turns, Ah Ha moments and some that you just can't believe. I like the fact that I could relate to Denise. She isn't a size 2, and she is wears her size well. I'm glad she finally found what she was looking for. Hasaan is great, even with his secret. I cried and got upset when I figured out what it was. Man listen... The beat down was necessary. You need to read the book to understand what . It will have you taking to yourself...lol...our maybe that's just me.

When you find your one you will do what you need to to make sure they are taking care of! With that being said....Happy reading!!

CRAZY Good

Denise is my girl I'm so glad she have her story as well. Now she went through some stuff . But you nerve know who's going to cross your path and when H came alone and showed her more then a booty call??... What happened to him was CRAZY?? we talk about our daughters but young boys go through the same thing but we think it's cool but it's not by a long shot. Beautiful story and my girl is a Millionaire? the mama was so funny?
