All That Glitters J. Minter

Flan Flood is happy to have reunited with her ex-best friend Camille, after having parted ways with Meredith and Judith. And now the two are ready to face private school life at The Thonet School. The problem is, Flan's arch-enemy Kennedy goes there too, and she definitely won't be happy to see Flan on her turf again. Will Flan be able to cement her popularity in the harsh world of private school, or will she soon be longing for the anonymity of Stuyvesant High?

Flan Flood enters her new high school at Thoney. She starts off on a rough patch because she doesn't know everyone and every rules. Once she starts to get the rules down she starts to get to know more people because she wants people to vote for her as the Virgil Host. She starts to do nice things and says yes to everything (like Yes Man) and she get caught up in a situation where her best friend needed her but Flan wasnt there to help. After she gets to elected as Virgil Host she finds out that she forgot to call the caterer for the party so she and her friends from the field hockey team brings food over to her house and starts to make food for the Virgil party. In the end she figures out that she doesnt want to run as host again

Welcome to a new year for Flan. After a fall semester at Stuy, Flan has finally realized that the private school setting is where she belongs. She feels far more comfortable around the girls that she went to Miss Mallard's with. So, with the winter break over, Flan begins classes at Thoney.

Thankfully, she has made up with her lost best friend, Camille, when they were both on Thanksgiving break on Nevis. So Flan has a friendly face as she enters the halls of her mother and sister's alma matter. She needs a good friend because her nemesis, Kennedy, is the ruling queen of the class.

Flan easily fits into life at Thoney, and Camille's friends readily accept Flan as one of their own. The first day of school doesn't go perfectly for Flan, but she knows that Thoney is where she truly fits in. After classes the first day, the girls meet up for pizza with a group of guys from the brother school, Dalton. All the faces are familiar, many of them having spent Thanksgiving in Nevis as well. Flan is pleased to see TZ there, but also, surprisingly, Alex.

ALL THAT GLITTERS is a fast-paced jaunt through Flan's first two weeks at Thoney. There are squabbles with Kennedy and Willa, her sidekick. There's a competition to host Virgil. There's always SBB to keep calm and relaxed. There's a fashion show that Flan's agreed to model in. And the gossip. You can expect lots of gossip in ALL THAT GLITTERS, like the rest of J. Minter's works.

For a look into the privileged lives of New York City kids, pick up ALL THAT GLITTERS and the rest of the INSIDE GIRL novels. You'll see how the other half lives. And you can't help but love the life Flan leads.

This was good I am indeed going to read the rest of the series!

I'm not usually a huge fan of chick-lit novels but there is something about this series that I really enjoy.

So...I'm a little ashamed to admit that I kind of really liked this book. I was not a fan of the first three, but the series is growing on me (which is why I continue to read the series). It still has the same style as the first three book in the series, with Flan being the girl next door in a socialite's world and at first I wasn't big on it. I hated Flan, but she's growing on me and I kind of like her now because it's so different from the other book like this (Gossip Girl, It Girl, A-List). I'm pretty sure that the only reason I wasn't a big fan in the beginning was because I was comparing it to The Insiders and I LOVE the first series and it was different than this so I was a little disappointed, but 4 books in this series I'm starting to like.
