

Archangel #3

William Gibson , Jackson Butch Guice (Illustrator) , Tula Lotay (Illustrator)

Download now

Read Online ➔

Archangel #3

William Gibson , Jackson Butch Guice (Illustrator) , Tula Lotay (Illustrator)

Archangel #3 William Gibson , Jackson Butch Guice (Illustrator) , Tula Lotay (Illustrator)

Mr. Baby—a bizarre looking, dangerous man—is the sole survivor of Berlin's prewar nightlife. Play by his rules, and he can get you anything, but he's not one to be crossed. A hard lesson for our inter-dimensional pilot... and the corrupt officials from his world who want him dead.

Archangel #3 Details

Date : Published October 5th 2016 by IDW

ISBN :

Author : William Gibson , Jackson Butch Guice (Illustrator) , Tula Lotay (Illustrator)

Format : Kindle Edition 24 pages

Genre : Sequential Art, Comics, Graphic Novels, Science Fiction, Fiction

 Download Archangel #3 ...pdf

 Read Online Archangel #3 ...pdf

Download and Read Free Online Archangel #3 William Gibson , Jackson Butch Guice (Illustrator) , Tula Lotay (Illustrator)

From Reader Review Archangel #3 for online ebook

Anna Hepworth says

Aii. This has got nasty. I'm fascinated, but only in a horrified kind of 'how bad can this get' kind of way. Not sure that I get how this can possibly only be a five volume story though - there seem to be so many details that haven't been wrapped up.

Mel says

This comic on the other hand felt WAY too short. The pilot tried to escape a little. There was a fight and then it was all over. I'm starting to think I should collect all of these and then read them in one go. It's an interesting story, a good premise and I like the characters but it feels like just a moment passes in each issue and I want more of the story.

Philip Speirs says

Still shorter than I'd like but interesting. I don't see how much more room it has to finish without some serious anticlimactic scenario though. I don't know why he didn't do a long graphic novel. Seriously!

Keith says

This felt like a bit of a shark-jump moment. The villains just march into a huge, crowded nightclub and start spraying bullets everywhere? Do they seriously think they can kill every single witness (including Allied servicemen)?

Also, what's up with the German woman who runs around with a massive machine gun in her bra and an unbuttoned jacket? A little restraint, please, artist - if you wanted some fanservice, you had a whole den of iniquity to play with, no need for such silliness.
