For decades the US Marines funded a top-secret unit known as Elite Recon. A deadly group of men and women sent to infiltrate dozens of countries completely undetected. Mission objectives so extreme casualties were not only probable, but expected.

The current batch of operatives had returned from hundreds of assignments unscathed...until one mission went horribly wrong. Several men lost their lives and the group disbanded. The remaining leathernecks were scattered in the wind with new identities. They were told to blend in. Be normal. Or face being forever silenced just like their fallen brothers.

Now, two years later, each living member of the group is kidnapped and given a chance to make things right. But this time they're no longer under the thumb of Uncle Sam. A mysterious private backer who knows about their past has brought them back together. No longer are they forced to turn a blind eye to the lost and forsaken.

Duty is their salvation.

A new life. A new future...Elite Metal.

Bound by Steele - Jennifer Kacey and Anna Alexander - To save his Marine brothers and sister he must accept the past isn't dead and buried. Reuniting survivors means he is forced to first forgive...the enemy.

Chrome's Salvation - Jennifer Kacey - A former leader of Elite Recon, reduced to nothing more than an apathetic existence. Until his girl's life hangs in the balance...now nothing will stand in the way of him coming back to life.

Adamantium's Roar - Anna Alexander - Adamantium left Beth to what he thought was a better life, only to find she had been living in hell. Now he'll do anything, break any vow, to claim her as his for all time.

Pure Copper - Heather Long - Copper will do whatever it takes to get the job done, even if it means seducing and betraying the one man who really sees her.

Sterling's Seduction - Sabrina York - When a snoop reporter threatens the Elite Metal, Sterling will do whatever it takes to kill her story about the team. Even if it means he has to tie her to his bed.

Platinum's Choice - Rebecca Royce - Platinum left the life he had with Rose in New York to rejoin his team and silence the nightmares from Operation Phoenix. But when Rose is forced to go on the run with Platinum's hidden son, he will have no choice but to return to his old life and reclaim what he has ached for every day since. Red Wolf's sniper wants to nudge Plat's underbelly and they're going to find out quickly how deadly he can be.

Mercury's Poison - Saranna DeWylde - A scarred, mad genius more monster than man must protect the beauty he's become obsessed with from a beast more terrible than himself.

Forged in Silver - Roxie Rivera - Rebel. Nomad. Troublemaker.

I will start how it ended...WHAT. THE. F! I have no words to describe how I feel now that I've reached the final page of this lengthy and amazing collection. I really don't. I clicked on it when I was in my military mood and sat on the read for some time. Bad for me...really bad considering that I loved it.

8 novels, each a complete story that leads into the next one and makes you feel like an addict jonesing for the next one. Each story brings to life another member of a now disbanded and supposedly deceased marine unit. My heart broke for the broken men and woman that were left behind. Stubborn, lost and seemingly forgotten they have nothing, not even their own names. But they are still wanting more deep down. Family, revenge and a whole lot more stirs each of them to trust again and hope for redemption and retribution.

Okay, like I said I was hooked from the first story. This collection is HOT! Brave, stubborn and single-minded; each of these team members falls like a domino when they are faced with love. I was in love and sold from the start; STEELE...but...BUT! But I was stopped dead in my tracks with the end. I mean I literally screamed out loud when I reached the end. It just ended...after the wonderful and talented Roxie Rivera dropped the biggest bomb of them ALL!

I'm not one for spoilers, so I won't say what it is but it's a doozy. I hope and pray that there will be more. Please let there be more. I have to know what the heck is going on. Who? Why? How? I'm completely stunned and taken aback by the ending. Please don't let this be the end. Very rarely does a story, let alone a series grab you and hold you like this. I was on the edge of my seat with each member's story and was happy when they found their own HEA, but it wasn't enough.

Well done ladies. Seriously, I'm so happy with the collection that I must insist on MORE! ELITE METAL was worth every penny spent and is a collection that I will surely reread. I hope that when I do reread it will be to refresh my memory for the next installment.

My review will be of Sterling's Seduction by Sabrina York .

4 Stars

Hotness Rating 4 out of 5

I am a huge fan of Sabrina York's writing style. The witty sarcastic charm that her characters exude gets me every time. In Sterling's Seduction we didn't get to see this as much from the main character due to all of his gruff, in-control, surliness. Have no fear. This worked for Sterling in a big way. Can you say hot, dominant, alpha male? Woo-eee! And we get the playful, witty sarcasm from the secondary characters. Win-win!

Sterling is a member of an elite military group pretending to be a motorcycle gang. This kind of deep cover has to be protected at all costs. People could die if this secret got out. That's why when the beautiful "Candy" comes across the team's radar as more than a nosy waitress Sterling will do whatever it takes to protect his team. There's only one problem. "Candy" brings out a side of Sterling that he's never experienced. He's never even imagined trying to protect someone from his team. They've always come first. Not to mention her sexual appetites rival his own.

Roni is a reporter for a gossip magazine posing as a waitress in the middle of nowhere trying to get information about the very protective compound that is stationed there. By all accounts, this compound is owned by a badass motorcycle club. But, Roni's not buying it. Her investigational skills and instincts are top-notch. There is definitely more to the story and everything her gut tells her points to military secrets. Could this be the story that can finally get her what she wants more than anything? She's willing to do anything to finally get out from under her step-father's claws. At least she thought she was until she meets the super sexy and dominant Sterling.

I really, really enjoyed this story and can not wait to read more of this elite team in this boxed set.

I received copies of Pure Copper by Heather Long and Mercurys Poison by Saranna DeWylde (two of the stories in this collection) from the authors for an honest review. I LOVED them both and am anxiously awaiting the publication of the book so I can read the rest.

Pure Copper by Heather Long – Copper is hell on wheels. She is the ultimate warrior/spy. (Think Black Widow with attitude). She has intrigued former CIA analyst Gabriel Danvers from the first time he saw her. Now he is out of the game but has popped on the radar of her team and she is sent in to check him out. She wasn't supposed to fall for him. Love has never been so deadly. This is a fantastic read from first to last. I'll admit I wasn't ready to let them go.

Mercurys Poison by Saranna DeWylde – Oh my goodness this one will tear your heart out. Mercury is poison even in small doses which is why Dr. John Thrace uses it for his handle. His face and body bear the scars from when an experiment of his went wrong and seven people lost their lives but most of the scars are in his heart and mind. John has been stalking Dr. Hazel Brewer as she ministers to the homeless and now his enemies have targeted her to get to him. Can he save her and in doing so save himself? This story tore me up. I hurt so much for the both of them. That just made the ending that much sweeter.

This is one of the best multi-author continuity bundles I have ever read! The way these authors have been able to put together this collective story is amazing and keeps you reading from one story to the next as fast as you can. Nothing better than hot sexy military men that I can't stop drooling over.

I received this ARC copy from author Rebecca Royce in exchange for an honest review.

In this 8 novella series from multiple authors, we are introduced to 8 Military Heroes who are going through the loss of their teammates when a mission they were all on to eliminate international bad guy "Red Wolf" went horribly wrong. Years later, the 8, known as the Elite Recon Team are brought back together by a mysterious benefactor known only as "Warbucks". Each story reveals a snippet in the life of one of the recovered Marines, now known as Elite Metal. I have reviewed each individual story. The main theme of these stories is finding and believing in true love, but also, finding out who was responsible for their original mission and finally finishing what they had set out to do before it all went to hell.

1) Bound by Steele (four stars)- by Jennifer Kacey and Anna Alexander

The fact that I wanted to go stand outside in subzero temperatures without a coat shows just how HOT this story was. Adam Steele lost his men and his best friend Zinc when a mission went horribly wrong. After having his true identity declared dead and his new persona struggling to get by, he is kidnapped by secret operatives to go undercover and finish his original mission. He is partnered with Alayna Devlin, another person whose true identity is also a mystery.

Pretending to be husband and wife is easier than the self-proclaimed bachelor thought. Especially since Alayna shares Steele's sexual proclivities. When Steele finds disturbing news about Alayna, it almost ruins the mission and Alayna and Steele's future.

I really enjoyed this story. The flow was great, and I read it relatively quickly.

2) Chrome's Salvation (two stars)- by Jennifer Kacey

When Chrome meets Cammie, a single woman with a baby on a flight to Colorado, he feels more for this woman than he has ever felt for anyone before. When the flight ends, Chrome wants to know more about his seat mate. He follows Cammie to her car, but is drugged and kidnapped before he makes contact with her. Brought back into the Elite Metal fold, Chrome meets up with his old friend Steele and learns that he is needed to right wrongs from the man he was supposed to take out when the original mission was compromised and he lost half his team.

When he later finds out that this strange woman is his newest mission- to retrieve her kidnapped twins, he vows to do everything he can to help her. Falling in love was not on that list, but it happened anyway.

While the sex scenes were steamy, I didn't love this story. There were passages that were confusing, wherein words were needed, but had been omitted. Either due to lack of editing, or just a writer who had the words in her head, but never managed to get them on the paper. I also didn't feel the connection between the characters. Cammie seemed to go along with whatever Chrome was doing to her, but not really vocalizing her desire to actually be there. However, the climax of the story was satisfying. Wrapping up Bound by Steele's storyline enough that it can now lead on to the main plot of this multipart story.

3) Adamantium's Roar (four stars)- by Anna Alexander

By far, my favorite in the series. Scott Maguire has been in love with Beth since the day he met her, but was too shy to do anything about it. Then his best friend Jason stepped in and married Beth. Scott joined the marines the next day. The night before Scott deployed, Jason drunkenly wrapped his car around a tree, dying instantly, leaving Beth alone.

Cut to years later. Adamantium is at a biker bar with some of his EM crew when he spies Beth being mauled by her new boyfriend. When Ant reveals his former identity to Beth, who he cornered in a bathroom, she is both shocked and dismayed to see him. Shocked that her Scott is still alive, but dismayed that he has to witness her like this-being someone's whore. Jason liked to gamble. When he died, he was deep in debt. Chesterfield (Beth's boyfriend) bought up the rest of Jason's markers and took Beth as Jason's payment. Taking Beth was Ant's only plan. The events that unfolded after weren't in his plans, but it did lead further into the mystery of Red Wolf.

I loved the backstory here. I loved the characters' insecurity with not only each other, but with themselves. I'm also eager to see how the next "chapter" advances this story forward.

4) Pure Copper (two stars)- by Heather Long

Copper is the mission. Doesn't matter what mission she's on, she is 100% in it, heart, mind and soul. Until she meets her next mission. Gabriel is a man who the EM is looking into as a possible connection to Red Wolf. Attraction crackled at first sight, which then led to a very steamy interlude up against a wall. What Copper failed to realize is that she is dealing with an ex-CIA agent who has no qualms about dealing with people who are after him. Especially one he has been chasing for over two years. When Copper's mission becomes compromised, Gabriel does everything he can to save the woman he is falling in love with.

I have to admit that this was my least favorite, so far. I didn't feel that there was any connection between Copper and Gabriel. The story was also a bit on the confusing side, in that Copper had internal conversations with her dead lover, and, maybe this is because this was an ARC copy, there was no change in font, or anything else to signify between the internal and external conversations, so I had no idea if conversations were taking place in the past and had actually happened, or was in the present and what Copper was imagining would happen.

5) Sterling's Seduction (three stars)- by Sabrina York

When you have a hunch about something, you go after it, whole hog. At least, that's what Roni does when she sets her sights on her next story. Until her "investigative reporting" brings her to Bone Daddy's biker bar in Deep Ellum, Texas, and to the Elite Metal "motorcycle club". Sterling eyes Roni, having seen her years earlier being escorted off the set of a movie where he was running security in his former life. Sterling never forgot her face. Or her body. Or the fact that by snooping around where she shouldn't, might get her killed, or at the very least, handcuffed to his bed.

As much as I love Sabrina York's writing, I felt that there was a lot more telling than showing in this story. Though I did feel the chemistry burning between the characters, this story felt too light and breezy for the subject matter. While it was easy to read and understand, I'm not sure if this story added another layer to the main criminal, or if the point of the series is to pair off the Elite Metal team.

6) Platinum's Choice (three stars)- by Rebecca Royce

Elijah "Platinum" Jones was adjusting to life as a civilian. Finally doing what he always wanted to before military life. Rose Smith is a kindergarten teacher, and, like most teachers, considers her students her kids. Especially one in particular.

Kent was told his military father died before he was born. He lost his mother soon after his birth, and was subsequently raised by his grandmother. Yet Kent still held out hope that his father was alive, and was the man who was footing his private school bill.

Rose and Plat meet by chance and start a year long romance. When Plat disappears, Rose shuts down.

Plat has always kept tabs on his son he found out he had after his original mission failed and he was declared dead. When Kent, his son, goes missing, Plat vows to do anything and everything in his power to find him.

Especially when he finds out Rose, his Rose, is with Kent.

I have to say I really enjoyed this story. The characters were well developed and I felt the chemistry between them. My only complaint is that there were a few editing glitches- missing words and punctuation, but the story flowed well enough that this is a minor complaint.

7) Mercury's Poison (three stars)- by Saranna DeWylde

John "Mercury" Thrace blends into the shadows so as not to be seen by anyone, but he never expected Hazel (dubbed Witch Hazel by Copper) to not only see him, but to fall for him. Mercury was badly burned by chemicals and is unable to allow anyone in, except Copper, his closest and oldest friend.

When Hazel gets caught up in a situation beyond her control, Mercury steps in. Both Hazel and Mercury are doctors and specialize in chemical research, a fact that will later save Mercury's life. Mercury keeps pushing Hazel away, claiming he doesn't want her to get hurt. Except that Mercury is the one who winds up hurt.

I really enjoyed this spin on Beauty and the Beast. I also loved the addition of chemical warfare and how this plays into the "Red Wolf" character theme. This was well written, and I loved how the author really dug deep into the character of Mercury, where you felt both his physical and mental pain. A few editing mishaps, but otherwise good.

8) Forged in Silver (three stars)- by Roxie Rivera

Silver left the mess that was EM when their mission blew to hell. Hiding under the radar for years, Silver became an international thief, stealing art, jewelry and intel. When he is captured and hauled back to Elite Metal, he is not welcomed back with open arms. His old team died, and the other teams he fought alongside don't want him because of his "job" after they all parted ways. Silver is sent on solo missions for the team, courtesy of their benefactor, known only as "Warbucks". His only connection to the EM team is Poppy Jones, Warbucks' face and voice for the team. Their back and forth banter through monthly status checks over text is funny and flirtatious. When Warbucks manufactures the pair to tackle the same mission, Silver cannot deny his attraction for Poppy any longer. Poppy, on the other hand, is reluctant to start something, despite her body's reaction to Silver's mere presence. When Poppy finally allows herself to live, their culmination is H*A*W*T! When their mission proves fruitful, the EM team reluctantly accepts Silver back into the fold.

The epilogue of all 8 stories is the reveal of Warbucks and his "ghosts". I was surprised at the reveal, and I think readers will be too, especially because this ends on one hell of a cliff-hanger! I cannot wait to see how the authors explain this surprise, and to see if Red Wolf is captured once and for all!

Despite a few editing mishaps, this was a great anthology by some really talented authors. I highly recommend this series to anyone who believes in love.

Review of Sterling's Seduction by Sabrina York

ARC copy provided by author for an honest review--Book to be released 2/10/15

Just when I think Sabrina can't write a story hotter than the last, BAM! she goes and writes a hottie military/biker tale! Sterling Teller is part of an Elite Metal secret military black ops team. When he and others in the group head to the local bar, Sterling sets eyes on "Candy", a reporter masquerading as a waitress. Sterling suspects her of investigating Elite Metal, and he must do whatever it takes to keep them safe. Even if that means luring "Candy" back to her room and giving her the BIG "O". He's ready, willing, and ooooo sooooo able to take one for the team! But one taste of "Candy" may never be enough. Turns out she has her own secrets to protect, and Sterling is not sure if he can comply with an order to eliminate the one woman who's haunted his dreams since the first day he saw her.

I can't freaking wait to read the rest of the books in this collection! Each story builds on the next! Gonna be a hawt ride, that I highly recommend!!

Elite Metal

Platinum's Choice
By Rebecca Royce

Elite Metal is going to be a fantastic series. I have gotten a taste of it through "Platinum's Choice" by Rebecca Royce.

Platinum (Elijah) has had to refurbish his life a few times. The last time, he thought would be "the last time" and decided he could invest himself in a relationship. Well, life loves to throw us curve balls!

Rose loves being a teacher. Helping her kids is her purpose in life, then, she meets Elijah. She knows he is holding back, but thinks they have something special going on. Then, he is gone.

Now Rose is on the run with a child (Kent) that isn't really hers, but she will do what she needs to do, to protect him.

Enter Platinum. Just what is Rose suppose to make of his re-appearance and the fact that Kent and Platinum (Eli) seem to know each other.

Love, betrayal, anger and running for your life. This story says a lot.

Can't wait to read the rest of Elite Metal.

I got an arc of Sterling's Seduction by Sabrina York 5?'s Wow Sterling can seduce me anytime! I loved this story! It had everything you want in a great story and was well written! I don't want to give much away but this was an exciting and hot book! Sterling and Roni were great characters! Another incredible and must read book by Sabrina!

Pansy says

How many fans of the Avengers out there? raises hand Oh yes! Well guess what. Some of my favorite authors have put together the most amazing collection of "avengers." Okay, so none of them are from another planet. They are all from the good ol' US of A. None of them have actual "superpowers." They just have all the best training that can be provided, not to mention natural talents. What they do all have in common though? Loyalty. Honor. Family. And a thirst for vengeance.

Enter the world of Elite Metal. To the outside world they are a Motorcycle club. Little does the world know that they are also the most lethal group of highly skilled former Marines with a driving desire to bring down the forces that almost destroyed them with bad intel and then left them abandoned to a cruel unforgiving world with no past and bleak futures. Meet these down to earth Avengers and the people they love.

Meet Steele – BOUND BY STEELE by Jennifer Kacey & Anna Alexander – one of the tortured, guilt ridden leaders of Elite Recon who made a disastrous decision that destroyed the teams and Alayna, the CIA mole that was fed bad intel. Their coming together lead to healing, forgiveness, and hope that there was still a future.

Co-leader Chrome – CHROME’S SALVATION by Jennifer Kacey – and Cammie. Cammie is so sweet doing all she can to get her young siblings back safe and sound, but she brought Chrome to his knees.

Computer geek, Adamantium –ADAMANTIUM’S ROAR by Anna Alexander – gets smack upside the head by his past when he finds high school crush Beth in need of the kind of help only he and his brothers and sister can provide.

Chameleon, Copper – PURE COPPER by Heather Long – the only female of the group, gets sideswiped by the only person who has ever actually seen HER, former CIA agent Gabriel.

Hot Master Dom Sterling – STERLING’S SEDUCTION – meets his match with reporter Roni when she shows up. She may look like she is only looking for a story, but she just wants her sister back.

PLATINUM’S CHOICE by Rebecca Royce – he just wanted what everyone else wanted. His family to be safe. Hence no-one knew about his son until someone starts taking shots at The Boy and his teacher, Rose.

Heavily scarred Mercury – MERCURY’S POISON by Saranna DeWylde – doesn’t feel he has any redeeming qualities left until Dr. Hazel insists over wise.

Silver – FORGED IN SILVER by Roxie Rivera – the bad boy of the group needs the most forgiveness for his choices. But Poppy, the “liaison” between the team and Warbucks is more than ready to bring this bad boy back to the fold. I was so happy to see Poppy get to find happiness too.

Warbucks? He was the elusive “money man” that – um – initiated these “Avengers” back into the fight against the evils of the world, like Red Wolf. sigh Although, I think he needs to get a larger compound. The team keeps acquiring more family.

Let’s not forget the “ghosts” that flitted around each of the stories. Just who are they? Why are they here?

I adored how these authors came together to present this collection of stories about heroes that we all want out there looking out for us, and the extended family that provides them the courage and drive to continue the fight no one else wants to undertake. Each author brought her own voice to this collection but each contributed to the overall theme of loyalty, honor and family. Well done.

I even loved the WTF ending that was lobbed at us. I can’t wait for the next book!

I was provide a copy of this book in exchange for an honest review.

Ansu says

I am going to be in the minority here as I was not blown away as all my fellow GR readers.

I LOVED Bound by Steele by Jennifer Kacey and Anna Alexander and Chrome's Salvation also by Jennifer Kacey. I will be looking out for more books by Jennifer Kacey as these two books blew me away. They are worthy of a solid 4* rating.

I loved the banter between the characters esp Steele and Chrome, the heroines where great, the story might have been missing some action though. I would have loved to see them fighting as a unit - that for me was a big part that was missing, otherwise a fantastic read that had me glued to the pages.

And then I moved on to Adamantium's Roar - Anna Alexander, and I just could not like this part of the series. The heroine put me off the story and this was a DNF for me.

I then moved on to Platinum's Choice - Rebecca Royce. Rebecca is one of my favorite authors but again Platinum was not alpha enough for me and I was not feeling this part of the story like Steel's or Chrome's.

Being so disappointed I moved on to Forged in Silver by Roxie Rivera hoping that this part will blow me away, but sadly this was another disappointing read. I needed Silver to be a little more Alpha for Poppy, Poppy was the lead in this romance and I don't like my romances where the hero takes a backseat to the heroine. Again why where they not working as a team - the story would have been great if we could have had that.

Maybe I should not have started to read all the stories one after the other but I was not feeling the love after Chrome's story.

Kiki Sidira says

I have read Chrome's Salvation, by Jennifer Kacey and Sterling's Seduction, by Sabrina York.

About Chrome's Salvation :

This is probably the tamest book I've read from Jennifer Kacey. Not the way you think, though...

Of course it was kinky, but it also had a focus on adventure in a way that I had not expected her to do so, seeing that the books I've read from her mainly focus on the BDSM part.

But it was a "good" unexpected and it made me go back and re-read it!!

I loved the path the characters walked through their own issues and how it works out for them.

And of course, I loved how it guides us to the next story!

About Sterling's Seduction :

That was not expected! Ok... maybe it was a bit expected, judging by the lineup of authors, but still..... I would be expecting the story to be more tame!

Nope! That didn't happen. It was wild and surprising... It didn't drift the way I expected it to go, but followed a different direction.

Of course Sterling was hot! Of course he can take me to bed whenever he wants! However, he has a team to protect and he will do anything to achieve that!

Candy/Roni has her own secrets and an agenda of her own. Messing with Sterling might not be the solution she wants. And it actually isn't.

The way the plot twisted in this particular part, had me speechless! I really was waiting for a different way of ending the story, but it didn't!

Now I need to read the rest of the stories! :p

Saunders says

This was a perfect for me in every way. Book 1 in the Elite Warrior series. Not an anthology but a 8 novel boxed set for 99P (no longer this price though)

The storyline is based on a top secret unit known as Elite Recon. A deadly group of men and women who infiltrate countries that have remained undetected. Their mission objective was extreme and casualties expected. This mission went wrong - badly and resulted in the survivors being given new identities and an instruction to blend into their new life and remain undetected or else.

For two years later the survivors became different people until they are kidnapped, brought back together by a private backer and no longer under the radar of Uncle Sam. they become Elite Metal.

I loved every one of these stories - all well written bringing together the individual stories of each member of this group and what happened to them when the mission went wrong and how they became "new" people. Dirty talking alphas, some BDSM elements and spanking, insta love and each story has a HEA - well until the final story!

It has also introduced me a new bunch of authors that I haven't read before so I will be checking them out. This series ends on a cliffhanger and what a cliffhanger it was (although I am sure a lot of you will guess where this is going ;) not a fan of cliffhangers but book 2 is already out and all I can say what an ending and what a start.

a worthwhile read from a bunch of talented authors. Just my kind of book.

If Chrome signs up to be a part of Elite Metal it will be his job to save Cammie's kids from kidnappers. But in the end will Cammie save Chrome? Want to know how.....read Chrome's Salvation to find out because I'm not telling.....but I will say there is HOT SEX involved.

Loraine Oliver says

Elite Metal is going to be an awesome read, with several authors' writing their part to create an awesome series, but today I am just here to review Sterling's Seduction, by Sabrina York; I received an ARC for an honest review.

Sabrina York really delivers a hot, sexy and adventure packed addition to this series with Sterling's Seduction, and I mean hot! The sex scenes are off the chart and the plot is great, you do not get much better when you are talking military/biker reads than Sabrina York, in my opinion. I also love the well developed character of Sterling and Candy, and the minor characters are good as well. In this story we find the members of Elite Metal visiting a biker bar and then Sterling sees Candy, a new bar waitress and he remembers her from being in Los Angeles where she was a reporter.

What follows will be a hot seduction, and then you will have to see what happens. But things aren't always black and white and sometimes what seems to be the obvious is nothing further from the truth. Take this ride with the author as she reveals secrets on both sides that will affect the outcome for both Sterling and Candy, "the barmaid" in Sterling's Seduction. When you are finished, you will be so glad you read it and got to witness first hand a "black ops" soldier at work!

This is part of the series that you can't afford to miss and the author- true to form, delivers a part that will have you sitting there from the beginning until you finish, because from page 1, she will draw you in!

I gave Sterling's Seduction 5 Stars!
