Could be gayer, but overall I really liked it.

"man I've got the CBGBs" I think that's all you need to know.

Having only watched one fifteen minute episode of Adventure Time, I can hardly call myself a connoisseur of the series. However, with a basic knowledge of the characters, I did find myself enjoying the debut issue and am excited for the next issue so I can see where Marceline and the Scream Queens (as well as Princess Bubblegum) are headed on their concert tour.

P.S: If you're wondering why Bubblegum would voluntarily go on a concert tour with Marceline, you'll just have to read and find out!

I just love Marceline and Princess Bubblegum so much, they are my favorite little ship and this really showcased their friendship.

i absolutely love the color and the artwork in this! especially the color. it's gorgeous. so much pink.

this wasn't as weird and out there as i expected it to be. i don't really watch the show but i'm familiar with a few of the characters and i was hesitant to pick this up because i thought it would be hard to follow, but that wasn't the case at all and the storyline was kind of sweet.

i definitely want to get into a few more adventure time comics.

this was cute :)))

I still cannot get over how excited Marceline's dad was to finally meet Princess Bubblegum, not because she is the ruler of the candy kingdom, but because she's Marceline's favorite friend. It was so cute.

Xavfro says

Some funny parts but not really an "adventure". And although I like Marceline, she really wasn't that cool in this story

Katie says

This was adorable. The artwork is stunning and the dialogue is totally on-point with the show's humour. Loved it. I have already pre-ordered the trade of Meredith Gran's second Marceline story.

Who wouldn't want to be an ax bass-wielding rock star with an affinity for pranks, wild and fearless? Nevermind if you are also over a thousand years old, half a vampire queen and half demon who sustains herself on shades of the color red, as opposed to blood. She's sassy, independent and wild though she can be vulnerable too, though you never know because she is such a trickster. Long story short: Marceline rules. In here we see her about to go on tour with her band, but before she does, Princess Bubblegum sets up their concert in the Candy Kingdom. At first she dismisses Marceline's music as a just noise, but when Finn and Jake convince her to go see the band in action, she falls for it. She feels the calling of rock and roll so she signs on as the manager of the tour and the adventure begins. However in every gig Marceline gets more and more paranoid and depressed about her music. Will she set all her demons free and turn herself into a rock-and-roll monster or will her friendship with Princess Bubblegum save her?

It's all about the power of friendship inner demons and insecurity of course, and I love the relation Marcie and PB have, so it is a winner.

Okay, I admit it, Marceline and Princess Bubblegum are my Adventure Time OTP - I just love them so much!

In this series we follow Marceline and her band, The Scream Queens, on tour - with Princess Bonnibel Bubblegum as their manager, trying to reign in the crazy and deal with Marceline's insecurities and (some times) diva behaviour.

As if that weren't enough, there is some mysterious hater who keeps plaguing Marceline with terribly unfounded reviews - who could it be?

This series was so much fun! I know this is for kids but, in true Adventure Time tradition, it's funny for adults as well. In fact, there are some awesome things about it more likely to be enjoyed by adults, like the awesome cover art for each issue and respective inspiration(s):

There were some genuinely funny moments - I always love how Adventure Time picks up gender tropes and what's happening in pop culture and criticises it. Enter Guy, that mysterious musician whom every girl should love, especially since he is afflicted with a "very sexy curse".

He's such a ~tormented soul~ and he keeps lying and lying, clinging to his air of mystery and danger, which makes him oh so ~irresistible~. Thankfully Princess Bubblegum is a very mature lady who knows how to deal with these dudebros:

But, as I mentioned, besides this social critique, and the awesome plot and subplots, this series was immensely funny:

And it offered some treats for us shippers, as well :)

So, if you like Adventure Time, and let's be real - who doesn't? - GO READ IT!

No soy fan de Hora de aventura, sin embargo he visto uno que otro capítulo y la verdad me agrada mucho Marceline

La historia es sencilla pero entretenida, al final la interacción entre Marceline y la Dulce princesa es parte de lo que le da un plus a la historia. Sin embargo es como un capítulo más de la serie, y es mucho el formato que maneja el cómic para lo que ofrece.

Adorable! Also had a message about creativity and failure that I really needed to hear.
