Mr. Principal Summer Cooper

He didn't look convinced. "Is it wrong to be with the person you love?"

My heart skipped a beat and I could no longer meet his eyes. I wasn't ready yet to accept what I saw there. I wasn't ready to accept his love.

Dana Duran has no idea what she's doing with her life. Divorced, bitter, and trying to raise a precocious little girl on her own, the last thing Dana needs is another complication in her already hectic existence.

But then Carter Knight comes back into town and just like that, Dana's reality is shaken yet again. Torn between protecting her heart and harboring a secret she wishes she could forget, Dana has mixed feelings about Carter's return.

But the heart knows what it wants and for Dana and Carter, their hearts want each other.

But will they let their past mistakes dictate their present or will Dana and Carter let go of the past and make room for love?

Jo-Ann Forrest says

Dana is a divorcee with a menial job and an awful ex. One day she reconnects with her best friend Carter, who is the school principal at her daughter's Meredith's school. Soon she realizes that she should not have married Tom, but maybe Carter was it for her. However, Dana is stubborn and doesn't believe she deserves anything good in life. She realizes that her marriage was similar to her parents, without any real love. Can she accept the love that Carter always wanted for and from her? Is it too late for her and Carter? Dana, will surprise you and question everything she did, but will she open her heart and her eyes to love?

Reva Parks says

Dana Duran is having a tough time: a recent divorce by her husband of eight years who did not want her to work, her ex marrying a 19 year old her five year old daughter seems smitten with, a new manager at the local grocer who has already threatened her with job loss which she can not afford because her marketing degree was from before online marketing was the way to go. She leaves her job to pick up her daughter to find no traffic at school because she forgot it was an early dismissal day. And her daughter is standing outside visiting with the principal, who was Dana's best friend all four years in college and she has not made contact with him at all since he has been back in town. To make matters worse, she has a flat tire down the road and Principal Carter Knight stops to help and has to lend her his spare. In a few days her new boss has cut her position and lays her off. Will she ever be happy? This book was a good read and after many ups and downs eventually gets to a happy ending!

I voluntarily reviewed an Advance Reader Copy of this book.

Fantastic book by Summer Cooper that will keep you glued to the pages of this captivating story. This was a beautiful love story of second chances that was so well done; it held my attention because it was entertaining, had emotional angst, scorching love scenes, a compelling storyline, but also was heartwarming. This was a different storyline and the book maybe fiction, but the storyline can be related to true-life situations. When reading the story, it may make you feel sad, confused, appalled, and even euphoric. I loved the characters of Dana Duran and Carter Knight. Dana and Carter were in college together—they were good friends, then when Dana got married to her best friend's (Piper) brother, Tom, Carter leaves the country. Now, seven years later, Dana is divorced, has a five year old daughter, and Carter has returned as the Principal of her daughter's school. The dialogue and the push and pull between the characters make for a hugely entertaining read, full of witty dialogue, sensual scenes, and sexual tension. Read their journeys and how they each have their imperfections to deal with but their journey makes them realize that they can overcome anything and any impediments. You get a chance to see the progression of their love. The scenes are well written, fast-paced and flow smoothly from one scene to the next.

I received this book with the understanding that I could leave a voluntary and honest review.

In this book we meet Dana Duran and Carter Knight. Dana and Carter know each other from college and since then each's lives have taken different paths. Dana got married and is now 1 year divorced while there is no love loss there she still feels bad for her little girl. Carter took on the world and never looked back. Well that's how it seemed it would be until she got the letter telling her he had become the new principle at her daughter's private school. They both wonder though could their be more now that they have grown up a bit or will it just be that person they once knew?

This is another amazing hit by this author. It has its ups and downs that I really want to tell you about. However I don't want to ruin it for any other readers. I will say this book will have you hooked from the first word to the very end. I would highly recommend it to anyone and everyone.

Oh my god what an extraordinary story and so completely well written and thought through. This is Danna and Carter's story. Oh and who could forget Meredith? She is Danna's little girl and is just adorable. She is oh so wise for her age and most of all funny. I love how when Carter asks her out how Meredith grabs her mom's phone and answers yes before she puts it you had to say yes. This was an amazing story that started out sad with divorce but was made better by a wonderful man and truly amazing little girl. Danna's ex was a real piece of work (I so wanted to say something worse but will just keep it to myself). But when her ex husband tried to ruin everything by taking Meredith from her. I was so happy when Carter helped but so sad with him when he left. So now they just have to figure out what to do and you will have to read to see how it all ended.

Now before I ruin this for you I will leave off here. I hope you enjoy this book as much as I did. If you do like this book, please consider leaving a review. The Authors really like it when you do; they value your opinions too.

Mr. Principal by Summer Cooper had a bit of a nostalgic feel to it along with some very humorous moments.

Dana and Carter were best friends in college. Then as the story goes she met Tom and her life evolved toward marriage and a child and Carter moved on with his life. Here is where things begin to change. We find out that the past was not as simple as written and when Dana's husband divorces her for a much younger woman (JERK), her life becomes a challenge to raise her very smart and sassy daughter yet still have to deal with her jerk of an ex and his young new wife. Yeah, not an easy task.

Mr. Principal just happens to be Carter her best friend from college and now the principal at her daughter's school. When she discovers Carter at the school so much comes back to her and their friendship is like it's never changed. Dana has to work through all her feelings with some surprises along the way. She is a strong woman, a wonderful mother with the potential to grow once she faces all her fears.

Carter is amazingly sweet, intelligent and has never given up on the fact that Dana should have been his. How right he is!

There journey from college, years apart and finding each other again was perfect. But we can't forget about the supportive characters in this story. Tom, his young wife, Dana's best friend (who happens to be Tom's sister) along with Meredith who brought so much laughter to the story.

I don't think Summer could have written this story to be any better than it was.

I can wholeheartedly recommend this book for the good feelings it will pass on to you.

Dana's husband was a cheating rat who didn't deserve her. The only reason she could be thankful that he had been in her life was because they had an adorable daughter together- five year old Meredith. Dana has obviously got some trust issues because of that rat but she is learning that life goes on and can be so much more fulfilling without him! When she turns up late to collect Meredith from school she sees her standing with the new school Principal, Carter, who she went to college with and whom she she doesn't realise he had deep feelings for her but her ex hated him and so she lost contact with Carter. But Meredith is a little charmer and quite feisty and she decides to play matchmaker for her mum and Principal! Beautifully written by Summer Cooper and this illustrates perfectly why she is a top USA best selling author. I loved Carter and really felt for Dana as she has been though so much and deserves a HEA. Her ex is not worth effort to think about. But the star for me was most definitely Meredith who stole my heart in this story. I received a reader's copy of this book and voluntarily leave my honest review of it here. I have to say first, Carter (the hero) has the patience of a saint! Summer Coo[er brings us life after divorce. Dana was burned really badly by her college sweetheart turned husband and she is doing everything she can to keep herself together. A year later and she is still struggling. That's where Carter, her best friend from college, steps into the picture again. He has always held a torch, but it was never reciprocated. This story is all about reinventing yourself and letting yourself go out into the world again, finding love and starting over. A truly great and heart warming story with some hilarious moments thrown in. Great read! I voluntarily reviewed an advanced copy of this book.

A huge thank you to Ms. Summer Cooper for another outstanding romance with her latest release, Mr. Principal. I found myself compelled to read this amazing book from cover to cover in one sitting. I have always been a fan and I still remain in awe of the creativity shown in the storylines and realistic characters used.

As a single Mother, recent divorcee, Dana, deals with her nasty ex's moving on and marrying again, while she struggles to make ends meet. Raising her beautiful 5 year old, Meredith, this crafty book portrays very realistic scenario and when she meets up with her once college best friend, Carter, the plot takes you even further into a beautiful love story. Carter has always loved Dana. Will she finally put him out of his misery, of being without her, and give him the real chance he deserves? I personally feel the ending of this book was so beautiful, you're 100% going to love it. Actually, like me, I'm sure you will love anything written by Ms. Cooper and keep coming back for more, as I do, every time.

I was beyond fortunate to have requested an advanced reader's copy of Mr. Principal in exchange for my honest opinion and I highly recommend reading this book as well as anything written by Ms. Cooper.

Patricia Hoffstaetter says

I truly enjoyed reading this is a fascinating, intriguing second chance romance.

This book is about: a feisty, divorced & bitter woman (Dana) and her daughter (Meredith). The last thing she needs in her life again is another man (Carter Knight)

What you will find in this book is: a nasty, greedy ex-husband (Tom), drama, intrigue, twists & turns, humor, confrontations, harassment, threats, emotional feelings, attractions, lust, passion, love & steamy scenes.

The characters are interesting, well developed and realistic with their emotions. The story-line and plot is well-thought out and written, it keeps the reader's attention.

Emily Pennington says

Terry Baxter, the new Primrose Grocery Store manager, was wandering through the building, making every employee tense and uncomfortable. With only 10 minutes left on her shift, Dana Duran saw him approaching with a smirk on his face. She hated the thought that she would have to give up her customer service rep job, but she couldn't work for a jerk like this who couldn't keep his eyes off her chest and made disgusting remarks about customers and other staff behind their backs. Since her bitter divorce, she refused to back down from confrontation and stood up for herself. But the manager was angry and spiteful that she wasn't intimidated by his threatening comments. It was time to look for another job.

As Dana pulled up to the school to pick up Meredith, she saw a tall man standing there with her whom she suddenly recognized. At one time, Carter Knight had been her best friend and was now the school principal. He had always been kind and tried to help others. And yet she hadn't taken time to seek him out and welcome him back. Add being a bad friend to her other failures. Even more embarrassing, she had forgotten it was an early dismissal day, which was why Carter was with Meredith, waiting for her to arrive. They said their goodbyes and she hurried to her car.

As luck would have it, Meredith reminded her that it was Aunt Piper's birthday party that weekend – and Dana had forgotten to buy a present. But before they could drive to a store, her tire blew out! Even if she had a spare tire, which she didn't, she didn't know how to change the tire. Fortunately Carter pulled up behind her and put his spare on her car. Meredith asked her mom again about inviting Principal K to Aunt Piper's party, but he said he would already be there since they had all been best friends in college. So Meredith asked him if he would choose to kiss her mom or Aunt Piper? He laughed and said he doubted either would be interested in that. Dana was embarrassed, but she was having a hard time not thinking about him "that way" now. Would Meredith, the little matchmaker, get her way and find happiness for her mom? After all, Dana had never realized Carter's feelings for her. Could Dana let go of the past and trust again? Maybe it was time to see what each was missing out on?

This story was adorable! Meredith quickly became my favorite character! At 5 years old, she was wiser than her years and had no filter in place when she expressed her thoughts! Carter was a strong, caring person, definitely likable right from the start. And Dana, though she let her divorce make her angry and bitter at times, was determined to make a life for herself and her daughter and to stand up for what's right. The story line was a good one and focused on the way people treat each other, both the good and the bad. I really enjoyed this book and definitely recommend it.

Elizabeth Connor says

I was about half way into this book when I started to get a really bad feeling. Things were going too well and I was beginning to worry about what horrible thing was going to happen. When the horrible thing did happen, it wasn't a total surprise, since I'd already worked out what it was most likely to be. That said, the horrible, stupid thing that Dana did afterward really made me angry. Thankfully, she had a daughter who was a lot wiser than she was.

I related to Dana in a lot of ways, so maybe that's why this book brought me to tears. Still, I think most readers would find it easy to empathize with these characters because they are so very real. I received an ARC through Booksprout and I highly recommend this book. I loved it!

One thing for sure is when it came to Tom, she had rose colored glasses on. She was so naïve about the man a their divorce not only shocked her it devastated as well. When he traded her for a younger woman didn't help either. Carter on the other hand always loved Dana. He was constantly in the background and when the divorce came through he was back in town and was there when she really needed him. With all the drama created by Tom can Carter and Dana have a meaningful relationship that will stand the test of times? I

Rcvd an advanced reader copy from the author for giving my two cents. We meet newly divorced single mother Dana, who cant seem to get a break. On top of that her ex hubby just married a girl half his age...sheesh! When she drops her daughter meredith at school she is shocked to see Carter, her college bff, is now principal and he is still sexy as ever. When Danas bff Piper invites her over for a party she is glad Carter is there and happy to be reacquainted with her long lost bff. One day Dana goes to Pipers while shes away, she finds a shirtless Carter in the house. When the cats away the mice will play...and boy did they play until piper walked in on them...yikes. things are going good for them and Dana is waiting for the other shoe to drop. She has become friends with her ex's wife...surprising Becca shares news of her own. Dana's ex Tom is starting to out a wrench into Dana's happiness and it all points to Carter. Will Dana let tom win? Wilk Carter and Dana be able to deal with the backlash?
