The book Big Nate: Goes for Broke by Lincoln Peirce is a hilarious book full of fun stories and events of young cartoonist Nate Wright. If you like fiction books, I highly recommend this book and series.

Nate Wright, a future cartoonist in the making, is tired of his school always losing to their rivals from Jefferson Middle School. When Nate's school, P.S. 38, has to be fixed due to a pipe malfunction, Nate and his fellow comrades must go to school at Jefferson for two weeks. Nate is determined to beat Jefferson at the school's basketball game, but he finds himself in deep trouble when he stood up for Chad in the food court and ended up breaking his wrist. You can only find out if P.S. 38 finally beats Jefferson at something once you've read this book.

I recommend this book to anybody who likes to read fiction books. I have read the books in this series many times and find them very entertaining. Even the author of Diary of a Wimpy Kid, Jeff Kinney said, "Big Nate is funny, big time." I hope you consider reading this book because I LOVED it! This book has 224 pages.

My thoughts on the book big nate goes for broke are that he has all of this terrible luck and is very amusing to read. He is so scared of what will happen on his way to baseball practice. I felt scared for him because he almost fell off a bridge. He also tries to go for a record.

Noah Moon says

I really enjoy this book. This is one of the books in the series that actually has a story line, unlike the other books, which is only comics. This book is a mixture of comics, and a novel. I enjoy reading this series, and when i read it, I relate it to the Diary of a Wimpy Kid series. I would definite read this book again, and would recommend this book to anyone who likes the comic type books with a story line in it.

Nate Wright is about to have the biggest blast when he hears that his school, P.S. 38, is going to close down for a short notice. This means that he gets to mingle with friends, relax and enjoy drawing comics galore! But, all that changes when P.S. 38 announces that studies will continue in Jefferson, the mortal enemy of

P.S. 38. The thing is, P.S. 38 hasn't beaten Jefferson in ANYTHING, so Nate and his gang are ready for a thrashing. But all that changes when the find Jefferson's 'Achilles' Heel' and use it against them in the upcoming snow sculpture contest. Will P.S. 38 finally beat Jefferson, or will they still remain the total underdog. Find out in Big Nate Goes for Broke by Lincoln Peirce, a story about comedy, courage and rising up.

One of my students is a huge fan of Big Nate, and when he bought it at our recent book fair, and read it in one day, I knew I had to read it as well. What a fun, fun book! And I loved the emphasis put on both creativity and teamwork in this book in the Big Nate series. A great addition to our library!

Cute and funny. This series is definitely a winner.

Bennett Allen says

Big Nate Goes For Broke by Lincoln Peirce was a very good book. I really liked how Nate had to go to the rival middle school which he always seems to have problems with while the school is getting the water drained from the gym. It was also cool to compare how Nate has evolved throughout the book and has become more mature. The only thing I disliked about it was that it seemed like they spent too much time getting the problem and not enough time solving it.

In this book Nate is having a rivalry with Jefferson because Nate's school has not won a competition against Jefferson for 7 years. He sets out to beat them at something to break the streak. As this is happening Nate's school has a sprinkler problem and they have to go to Jefferson to have school. Also Nate finds out that they have a doodling club just like Nate's school. Then Nate finally comes up with a competition to have that he can win. And the rest is for you to find out.

I would recommend this book to anyone who has read a previous Big Nate but this is a little more for children 5-15 than it would be for an adult. Also this would be suited more for boys than it would be for girls.

Tyler says

its a book.

Julian Joseph says

The title of the book I finished reading was Big Nate: Goes For Broke.

The author of this book is Lincoln Peirce. It is a fictional book and has 216 pages.

The Main Characters are Nate, Dee Dee, Francis, Teddy and the Jefferson Middle School students.

The book is about a boy named Nate, who complains that the Jefferson students always win everything, which is proved by the fact that Jefferson won at everything against Nate's school, P.S. 38 for the last few years. Dee Dee says no one truly wins everything, and that everybody has a weakness. It is easier said than done, as Nate's friends try to look for Jefferson Middle School's weakness. Will they find it?

To find out more, read the book.

I would recommend this book for people who like cartoon books like the Diary of a Wimpy Kid, for example.

Thank you for reading!

Good book.

I read the book Big Nate, Goes for Broke. It's a funny fictional book, it is like a comic novel.

The main setting of the book is at PS.38 Elementary, and at Jefferson High School. Some of the main characters are Nate, Teddy, Chad Francis, Dee Dee, and Mrs. Godfrey. Most of the conflict is between the schools, PS.38 vs. Jefferson. The kids from PS.38 vow to beat Jefferson at anything they can.

I thought the book was good, and also very funny. But the book didn't have a purpose, but it was funny. There was no information, power, or persuasive factors in the book, but it encourages to never give up. Overall it was a good, entertaining, and funny book. I would recommend this book to just about all kids under 7th grade, unless you haven't been reading enough recently, and need to finish a book in a short amount of time for some reason.

Big Nate Goes for Broke by Lincoln Pierce is a story about big Nate and his friends had a snow day and is trying to have the best snow day ever but turns on them. at the school dance the sprinkler system went of and they went home. The next morning Nate, Teddy, and Francis where sledding on Teddy's new tube when the despised rivals Jefferson came and popped Teddy's new tube. so the decided to go to nates house. On there way back they saw construction workers at their school. They said "what's going on here". The man turned around the water sprinklers system ruined everything and got everything wet and moldy so we have to close PS 38 for a while. the boys screamed with joy and rushed to Nates house. they were planning on meeting the Jefferson at the bus stop and say have fun at school and play all day and have the best week ever. Nate yelled at his dad "DAD DAD GUESS WHAT SCHOOLS CLOSED FOR A WHOLE WEEK". His dad says I know you're principle sent and email and Jefferson. Nate stopped his dad ugh I don't want to talk about Jefferson. His dad say OK you but you may want to read the email. so Francis starts reading. yes school is closed for a while but we will not miss work. Nate says miss any work what teddy scrolled down they all read NO WE HAVE TO GO TO JEFFERSON SCHOOL FOR A WEEK AH!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

This book was awesome. It has so much humor in this book. It includes a kid named Nate, who's just like me, in middles school, and gets into some trouble. Nates school has a gas leak, so they have to go to their rival school, and stay there for the rest of the trimester. So, will Nate be able to keep it together for the remainder of the trimester? Also, my favorite part is when they do a snowman building competition and they find that Jefferson Middle School cheated, and they finally defeated the Jefferson Eagles.
