As the sun sets, animals all over the forest get ready for bed. Papa rabbit tucks his babies in among the leaves, fuzzy bears settle in their den, and little foxes snuggle together under the moonlight. Up above, an owl hoots a lullaby. The gentle rhyming text and soft illustrations in this charming book will help little ones settle down for a cozy night.

I'm a sucker for these kind of kids books (the ones that go from one kind of animal to another) - this is the fox family going to sleep, this is the squirrel family, etc. And it puts Squirt in the right frame of mind. And he can now say "Night-Night!" which is something we've been working on for months, so this is good reinforcement.

Sweet and cozy wind-down book for little ones. Love the art. The cadence is off in a few places so practice reading ahead of time to make it smoother.

Angela Evans says

Adorable rhyming scheme and colorful pictures, Laura loved looking at the animals in this book. Will definitely be reading again!

My son loves this book. The illustrations are gorgeous, there is rhyming and there are not too many words, so it holds the attention of 1 year olds.

---

Cara Byrne says

A gentle board book with cuddling sleeping animals and a very awake owl. An imagination library read for infants.

Though this book is for younger children my 4-year-old daughter loves and enjoys this cute bedtime story. She cuddles up close and almost always reads along with me. I recommend anyone with young children (0 months and up) to read them this lovely story.

My in-laws picked this book up for Cili while they were at the zoo, and I love it! The rhymes are sweet and the pictures are fun to interact with. This is a perfect bedtime book for us.

Sweet drawings, nice bedtime book

Fritz Loehrke says

Cute, if a bit derivative of other nighttime forest animal books I prefer. The pictures and rhymes hold my attention, but some of the animals' eyes are open and are creepily human. The font is very Disney-esq too, which is an unnecessary loop-de-loop distraction, and will confuse letter-learners. I like it enough to keep it in rotation though.

Nicole says

This is a sweet board book about animals going to bed. It is one of the first books my 15 month old has asked for by name. She loves to count the baby animals and look for the moon.

Sara says

Cute rhymes and adorable idea. I like that she wrote and illustrated it herself. Feels special.

Jessica says

Absolutely loved it!

This is such a sweet bed time story for littles. My two year old son loves saying "night night" to all the animals in the illustrations. The story is calming and sweet. It flows well and helps to coax those adorable little yawns. It has been the last book we read to my son for the past few nights. Works like a charm. He's ready to drag his stuffed T-Rex to his bed and get tucked in.
