All's fair in love and war in part one of a special two-book Valentine's Day miniseries.

Sweet Valley Middle School is celebrating Valentine's Day by hosting a TV game show! The contestants choose their dream dates by asking funny and personal questions--in front of their classmates and a TV audience. The winners get a free trip to an amusement park, and the entire school will be treated to the coolest Valentine's Day dance ever.

Jessica Wakefield can't wait to be a contestant-- and can't believe it when her twin sister, Elizabeth, is chosen instead. Is it time for another twin switch? Sophia Rizzo and Patrick Morris decide to cheat so they can end up together. And Janet Howell is busy dreaming of her perfect guy. But everyone's plans backfire big time! Will the dating game be a dating disaster?

"Be My Valentine"

Dizzy Planet time! /
The Tunnel of Love awaits... /
For Jess and Toddster?!

When SVMS is selected to appear on Young Love, everyone is sure they will end up winning a trip to Dizzy Planet, California's newest theme park. Lila, of course, has already been. Jessica can't wait for a chance to shut her up. Jessica is selected as a candidate for the boys, while Liz is picked as a contestant, guaranteeing her a spot at Dizzy Planet. But when she realizes how much the handsome host, Byron, picks on nerdy contestants, she starts to get worried. How incredibly lucky for her that she has a twin to switch with. They aren't supposed to tell anyone about their statuses, but Liz can't bear the thought of being humiliated onstage. Jess agrees to take her place... and ends up humiliating Liz anyway while impersonating her. She chooses Todd. The other couples heading off to Dizzy Planet are Amy and Aaron, Maria and Patrick, and Janet and Donald. When Liz is on in Aaron's group, she makes Jess sound like even more of an airhead than she really is (if that's possible). Too late, Liz realizes she could have answered better and won, therefore meaning she and Jess could have switched back. Now she is left without a trip to DP and without Todd. On the plus side, everyone thinks Liz can't form a sentence on TV and that Jess is stupider than Ellen Riteman!

I remember the cover but just not the story.

This book was simply boring. It got a little interesting from chapter 11 to chapter 14 but all the other chapters were not so good.

It took them 5 chapters to finish a scene. It was very unrealistic.

This is the real reason why people say "don't judge a book by it's cover" I didn't really buy the book for it's cover, the title & the summary of this story looked impressive.
